THE BROOKLYN SCANDAL.

Mr. Beach Still Speaking on Behalf of Tilton.

Severe Comments on Letters in Evidence.

One of Bessie Turner's Stories Pronounced Absurd.

NEW YORK, June 22, 1875.

A dense crowd filled the Brooklyn Court room this morning, the ladies attending being an increase over previous days, and all parties to the suit were present.

Judge Neilson stated that some of the jury were in his room this morning, and from conversations with them in regard to the occurrences of last evening, he believed that they were laboring under misapprehensions.

Messrs. Fullerton and Evarts made a few remarks on the same subject, and said that all the issue Beecher had to meet were those presented by the witnesses on the stand, and not those advanced against him in the newspapers containing outside issues.

Judge Neilson then said that he had observed in some of the evening papers paragraphs to the effect that this charge had been prepared two months ago, and that he had some time since received requests to charge from some of the counsel; but in justice to himself and the counsel, he felt compelled to state that his charge was not yet finished, but was now in process of preparation, and that he had not received any requests to charge. He was of the opinion that if he was allowed to deliver his charge first he could do it in such a manner so that counsel would have but few requests to make, and these they could advance after the charge had been given. Messrs. Fullerton and Evarts acquiesced in this matter.

Mr. Beach then arose and continued his summing up to the jury, and read the letter from Beecher to Mrs. Tilton in which he speaks of and in which he mentioned "true inwardness." The "nest hiding" letter was also read by counsel, who took this opportunity of disclaiming that they took the meaning of the word to be adultery. That was not so, as it meant concealment. In Beecher's novel "Norwood" he likens a delicate woman concealing her love to a bird hiding its nest, covering it up with vines and leaves. In the letter of June 1, 1873, Beecher said he was spending his last Sunday and preaching his last sermon, and in Tilton's testimony it appears Beecher asked him to give him notice if he was going to publish the documents, that he might either take his life by suicide or take a voyage to some foreign land, and the jury remembered the evidence given by Mrs. Moulton.

A Bird Singing in His Heart,

Richards' Testimony.

The counsel would trouble them with a few remarks upon the testimony of Richards, in which he stated that he saw Beecher in the front room and Mrs. Tilton moving hastily away, with flushed cheeks. The jury might not give the plaintiff's counsel any credit for thus bringing a brother to testify against his sister, and that the horror of the situation did not strike them. The counsel had not pressed the witness very closely, as they had got enough from him to serve all their purposes. We are told that Mrs. Tilton loved Mr. Beecher and also that he had feelings for her. Remember this condition of things in that light. Beecher on a chair and the door opened suddenly, and this woman springing away from him with burning cheeks. Was not this a situation which would cause a suspicion to enter the heart of the brother? We are told that Beecher visited Mrs. Tilton to pray with and advise her, but this was

Not an Attitude of Prayer

they were in when the door was opened. It was suggested that in the impulse of the moment and in embarrassment she did not advance to her brother to greet him, but went to the window, thus showing that she was cognizant of the nature of her impropriety. Was this witness, therefore, to be believed?

The counsel then passed into the consideration of Redpath's Testimony.

He read the interview which Redpath had with Tilton at the time he got the "True Story" from him, and also an interview which Redpath had with Tilton when Moulton was present, on which occasion Redpath mentioned the fact that he was going to see Beecher, and Tilton said: "Tell him I charge adultery."

Mrs. Morse's Letter to Beecher.

The counsel then read the letter from Mrs. Morse to Beecher, in which she says when she thinks of the misery he had caused to the family, and heard him cracking his jokes, she thought, with the Psalmist, there was no God. Beecher made no inquiries of her as to why she charged her daughter's misery to him and the troubles in this family household. What would Beecher do if he had been innocent of the charge? Instead of writing, he would have gone to her and demanded an explanation of this language used about him, pure and innocent, as he said he was, and never uttering an improper word to her. Could this man, if he was innocent, submit to these charges without a remonstrance if he was not guilty? If he could he did not inherit the same nature as the counsel and the jury.

Beecher as Mrs. Morse's "Son."

In another letter Mrs. Morse depicts the straits and circumstances her daughter was in, and implores him to come, and the secret of her daughter's life would not be mentioned. She knew it was hard to bring it up, and that he must have suffered intensely. She thought it strange that he (Beecher) should ask her to call him "son," and yet, said counsel, Beecher, according to his view of his conduct, never done anything which should induce Mrs. Morse to recognize him as her son. He had never done anything to that daughter which justified Mrs. Morse in calling him son. It was entirely competent that Mrs. Morse should have taken the stand and explained every word of these remarkable letters. Why was it that Tilton, Moulton and Beecher called Mrs. Morse and why were these letters read here without any explanation from Mr. Beecher? These letters were sensible and intelligent. There were no signs in them of a wandering intellect. Mr. Porter had suggested that these were but the wanderings of a mind overturned through the family troubles, but there was not the slightest foundation for this suggestion.

A Dangerous Woman,

An Interview Between Beecher and Bowen.

Some significance was to be attached to the interview on the 26th of December at Mr. Freeland's house between Beecher and Bowen. A bold demand was made on Beecher. It was insolent and had no foundation. How did Beecher meet it? He put the letter of demand in his pocket and said nothing until Bowen inquired of him what he had to say about it. He did not ask Bowen for an explanation of his connection with this message, but asked him if he was a friend of his. At that time Beecher had no knowledge of the love borne him by Mrs. Tilton. What was it made this man, if he was innocent, request of Bowen a statement of whether his feelings were friendly to him or not? Beecher then saw the necessity of from Tilton and securing him as ally for himself. He took the right course to do so, though of his motives we are ignorant. Yet to this hour, said counsel, the man who made this demand from Bowen was still a member of Beecher's church and partook of his ministrations, and did it not throw a light on the matter when the jury considered Beecher's appeal to Bowen, which came from his trembling lips, to be a friend to him?

Mr. Beach then said that Beecher, if innocent, could not have rested under the assertion of Bowen made to Howard in 1870 that he knew one thing which could drive Beecher out of Brooklyn, and which Bowen did not dare deny. Bowen said this to Howard after stating that the settlement of his difficulties with Beecher did not include one thing. This charge was known to Beecher, and yet he had continued living all these years, to break the Scriptural bread for this communicant and pour out for him the blood of the Redeemer.

The usual recess was here taken.

After the recess Mr. Beach continued his address, saying he would consider some minor topics. He referred to Beecher's call upon Mrs. Tilton when he came from Peekskill for that purpose as one of the little circumstances which corroborated the case of the plaintiff. He alluded again to the charges of blackmail, and then took

The Evidence of Bessie Turner.

He argued that the story of her removal from her bedroom was absurd. He did not care to make a charge of willful untruth against this witness, but that her theatric nature (to borrow a word from the defense) and the pruriency of her imagination had led her into great exaggerations, he thought there could be no doubt. One important fact appeared from her testimony, that as early as December 14, 1870, Mr. Tilton charged his wife with adultery, although the defense claimed that this charge resulted from a conspiracy which was not formed until December 26. Moreover, Mrs. Bradshaw testified, although Bessie Turner denied it, that the fact was communicated to her by Bessie Turner at that date.

He continued The issue cannot be avoided; the plaintiff's witnesses must be convicted of perjury, or else Mr. Beecher quieted his conscience by a form of denial of his own selection.

The counsel stated that there were cases when men had lied to save the honor of woman with whom they had intrigues, and that in such instances it was thought to be no sin, and he quoted several cases as examples.

The counsel then quoted from a sermon of Beecher, in which he said that was to purify yourself from it, and then take counsel from some friend. This was the teaching of Beecher, and the question was whether he had acted on his own theory and convinced his own mind and conscience that this was a case where he should commit that which under other circumstances would be grievous sin. Beecher had often shown the tendencies which beset a man who lied even in the court of his own mind, where he endeavored to befog and deceive himself. Mr. Beecher says that he does not marvel that there is so much lying, but the marvel to him was that there was so little of it.

The First Thing After Committing a Crime

The counsel quoted from a sermon of the defendant's,

"Our Relations to the Atonement,"

in which Mr. Beecher spoke of the idea of a God suffering for a world, and that there were some men who felt that they had no need of an atonement, and, says Mr. Beecher, "I do not believe in its need." Henry Ward Beecher teaching the inspiration of the Scriptures while he did not believe in one of its corner stones! All the Apostles, said Mr. Beach, teach us that salvation was reached through the atoning blood of Christ, and all this was rejected by Beecher, who did not believe in the saving blood of a Redeemer. And Tracy, in his opening, branded Moulton as a heathen, while Beecher was held up as the pure and Christian character of the age.

Mr. Beach made further quotations from Mr. Beecher's sermons, in order to show that his teachings were, in a measure, a departure from the orthodox faith, and the Court adjourned.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 22, 1875.

The Farragut Prize Awards.

The Secretary of the Navy has made a requisition for three hundred and sixty thousand dollars on the Secretary of the Treasury to pay the remainder of the Farragut prize awards. This sum will be placed to the credit of the Assistant Treasurer for the use of the prize fund. It will be distributed among 4,500 persons heretofore attached to the thirty-five or forty vessels of Farragut's fleet, which made the captures from the Confederates. The aggregate amount derived from all such naval captures during the late war was about thirty-eight million dollars, of which fourteen millions were turned over to the navy pension fund, six millions distributed to the captors and the remainder absorbed in expenses, &c. The Farragut cases are the last to be adjusted.

The Crops.

Reports received at the Bureau of Agriculture from different sections indicate that Winter and Spring wheat will yield four-fifths of a full crop. Rye promises better than wheat, but will fall below the usual average. Oats is in good condition, and will reach nearly a full yield in the States of the largest production. The barley crop promises well; clover, a fair average condition. Fruit prospects fair to good in the East, but below the average in the West.

King's Perjury Case.

In the Criminal Court to-day, the counsel of Wm. S. King, accused of perjury in connection with the Pacific Mail steamship subsidy, asked that an early day be fixed for his trial. The Court said the case would be continued to the October term, unless in the meantime the Government could secure the attendance of R. B. Irwin, the principal witness, which is not probable, as Irwin is now in Europe.

Appointments.

The President has appointed Thomas J. Kinney Collector of Internal Revenue for the Ninth District of Illinois. John O'Neill has been appointed Internal Revenue Storekeeper for the First District of Illinois.

Bush Fires in Canada.

OTTAWA, June 22.—A dispatch from Pembroke says that fires stopped navigation on the Upper Ottawa this morning. The people at St. Josephs are burying their household furniture to protect it.

THE RIVAL ROADS.

Negotiations Progressing Satisfactorily—No Change in Ticket Rates Yet Made—Ticket Speculations Becoming Shaky—The Advance in Western Freights.

[From the Baltimore Gazette, of Tuesday.]

General Freight Agent Guilford and General Ticket Agent Cole, of the Baltimore & Ohio, had a conference Monday morning with President John W. Garrett, at his country residence. The results of the conference in Philadelphia were officially laid before him. At the conclusion of the conference, which lasted some time, Messrs. Cole and Guilford drove into Camden Station, where they were closeted with Vice President King for several hours. The telegraph was kept busy during the day in the transmission of dispatches between the governing powers of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore & Ohio Companies in Philadelphia and Baltimore. Nothing could be ascertained as to the purport of the telegrams, but it can be stated that the negotiations for a complete and amicable settlement of the railroad war are progressing as rapidly as could be expected under the circumstances. It is not thought now that any serious obstacle will be encountered on account of the position of some of the officials of the Erie Company, as it is known that Receiver Jewett is both ready and willing to do all in his power to bring about an adjustment of the differences, that will be satisfactory to all parties concerned.

No Change in Ticket Rates

was made Monday. The rumor that when tickets did go up there would be no material advance has had the effect of making ticket speculators very shaky. It is the general opinion among railroad men that the speculators will have an extremely difficult time in disposing of their stocks of tickets. One reason for this is the fact that nearly all the hotels in Baltimore, Washington and other cities have bought large numbers of Western tickets at cut rates, which will be immediately put on sale, at the offices of these hotels on an advance in rates. As a large number of those who travel are patrons of the hotels the proprietors of the latter will thus have a peculiar advantage in disposing of tickets. The scalpers have recently heard of what the hotel proprietors have done, and are not by any means elated thereat. It is the opinion of some of the railroad officials that the new schedule of Western passenger rates will be made on a basis of $20 from New York to Chicago, being $2 less than the fare between the same points before the war. If this should be done the fare from Baltimore to Chicago will be $17.75 instead of the old rate of $19; from Baltimore to Cincinnati $13.75 instead of $16, and proportionate rates to other Western points.

The Baltimore and Potomac

Company is still selling Washington-Baltimore tickets of fifty and seventy-five cents for straight and round trip tickets respectively. The former being good until used, large lots of them are daily disposed of to business men, speculators and others. It is the opinion of some of the officials of this company that the rates for tickets to and from Washington will not be advanced to the old rates, but to something less. Baltimore and Ohio officials, on the contrary, are very positive in asserting that the antebellum rates will, under the compact, have to be resumed. These rates are the same as those now prevailing on the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio, viz.: $1.20 for straight and $2 for round trip tickets. The reduction made by the Baltimore and Potomac on the Washington passenger business has always been regarded by many railroad men as one of the heaviest blows struck by Scott against Garrett during the war. For this reason, it is thought, that the terms of the contract are such as not to allow the Baltimore and Potomac to make passenger rates that will prove detrimental to the interests of the Washington Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio.

The Advance in Western Freights was put into effect Monday morning. The following table will show, in the first column, the war rates per 100 pounds, and in the second column those that prevailed yesterday. It will be seen that the rates to some points have not as yet been changed, while to others they have been raised from 6 to 50 per cent.:

	War Rates. Cents.	Peace Rates. Cents.
Bloomington	22	35
Chicago	12	18
Cincinnati	12	15
Cleveland	14	17
Columbus	15	15
Dayton	15	15
Detroit	17	19
Evansville	25	25
Fort Wayne	17	17
Indianapolis	15	17
Keokuk	28	28
Lafayette	16	18
Louisville	20	24
Pittsburgh	10	15
Quincy	28	28
Rock Island	29	33
St. Louis	20	28
Terre Haute	17	18
Wheeling	10	15

The new rates to Chicago and St. Louis (18 and 28 cents) are still much less than those that obtained to those points before the war, which were 37 and 51 cents respectively. The rates above given are on what is termed a special class, embracing sugar, syrups, coffee, salt, and other articles. The advance in rates on first, second, third and fourth classes of freight is in proportion to that indicated in the table. Both the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania Companies have adopted the rates. There has been no change as yet in Eastern bound freights, contracts still being made for forwarding of grain from Chicago to Baltimore at 20 cents per 100 pounds, which is 15 cents less than the rate before the war.

NEW YORK.

"Boss" Tweed Released from the Penitentiary.

Bail Furnished on the New Indictments.

Again Lodged in Jail on a Civil Suit.

Mutiny in the Tammany Camp.

John Morrissey Refuses to be "Disciplined."

A New Party to be Organized.

NEW YORK, June 22, 1875.

Mutiny in the Tammany Camp.

John Morrissey was before the Tammany Committee on Discipline last night to answer charges of disloyalty. He was very indignant, and said he was in harmony with Tammany, but he was opposed to its management, and that the committee might as well make out his dismissal, as he should not resign until he saw fit.

The Herald says the dissatisfaction which has of late been manifesting itself against Tammany Hall, is gradually assuming shape. Last night there assembled in one of the upper parlors of Delmonico's a large number of influential Democrats, whose object was to form an organization, which, it is hoped, will supersede Tammany. The latter organization they claim, has outlived its usefulness, and the time is now ripe for party reorganization on a new basis, which will give all people a chance to form a General Committee, which will be constituted of representatives of the various elements of the party. To this end it was last night decided to get a representative delegation from each of the city wards with a view to arranging the preliminaries for the election of the General Committee projected. The first object of the organization will be to institute a systematic campaign against Tammany. It is now intended that the General Committee shall be a provisional one, but that it shall be permanent. On Monday next another meeting will be held, at which about four or five representatives from each ward will be present, and it is then expected that important work will be done.

"Boss" Tweed.

Boss Tweed appeared in the Court House to-day in custody of the Deputy Sheriff. He was smuggled off of Blackwell's Island at ten o'clock last night, and drove around the city in a carriage. This morning he went to his office in Duane street, and spent some time in consultation with his counsel, after which he proceeded to the District Attorney's office with his son and Secretary. In the Supreme Court his counsel presented to Judge Davis the order of the Court of Appeals for his discharge from the Penitentiary, which was signed by the Judge.

The "Boss" soon after appeared in the Court of Oyer and Terminer before Judge Brady. The room was soon packed with people, and immense numbers of others clamoring for admittance. District Attorney Phelps moved that the defendant be arraigned to plead to an indictment found in November, 1873. David Dudley Field, of the counsel for Tweed, stated that they were not ready to plead or to make a motion to quash, notice of this indictment having been received only a few days since. Mr. Peckham, on behalf of the people, said it was evident the defendant intended to pursue the old tactics and stave off proceedings as long as possible. This was disclaimed by Mr. Field.

A legal war of words followed, which lasted nearly an hour, Messrs. Phelps and Peckham on behalf of the people claiming there was no reason why this case should be made a special one or special favor be shown the defendant. Mr. Field demanded to know what special favors had been shown, or would be. "My client," said he, "has for seven months been illegally confined in the penitentiary, and when, after committing this outrage, an outrage for which every one concerned in it shall be held strictly accountable, and after he is released by a higher power than themselves, it is wrong, it is unjust to ask us to plead to an indictment of which we know nothing."

The counsel further said it could not be considered a special favor to issue warrants in a civil suit of six millions and to fix bail at the enormous figure of three millions, and that such bail was unheard of. "Yes," said Mr. Peckham, "and the stealing of six million was an unheard of thing until the defendant committed the theft." The matter here rested, and Judge Brady stated he believed the defendant ought to have time to examine the indictments, but would not give a formal decision until later in the day. The Court then fixed the bail on the new indictments.

The above argument was on the indictment charging the "Boss" with fraudulently obtaining the signature of Mayor Hall to a warrant paid to Andrew J. Garvey. On this indictment the Court fixed the bail at three thousand dollars. On the indictment found by the Grand Jury of May, 1875, term of Court of Oyer and Terminer, which charges him with conspiracy in having, in conjunction with Peter B. Sweeney and Elbert A. Woodward, defrauded the city, the Court fixed the bail at one thousand dollars.

The proceedings were then adjourned, and Tweed, surrounded by counsel, left the Court room.

Albert B. Sands became bondsman on the former indictment, and Chas. Devlin on the latter. The whole party returned to the Oyer and Terminer Court, and the bonds were approved by Judge Brady. Tweed was then taken in custody again on an order of arrest in a civil suit and conveyed to Ludlow street jail, where he will remain until the three million bail is furnished.

Tweed arrived at the Ludlow street jail late in the afternoon. He has engaged the warden's sitting-room, which is neatly furnished and well ventilated. He says he expects by to-morrow afternoon to be a free man.

Trial of a Notorious Counterfeiter.

J. Brown, the notorious counterfeiter from Cincinnati, who escaped some time since from Ludlow street jail, was placed on trial yesterday in the criminal branch of the United States Circuit Court, before Judge Benedict, on the charge of attempting to sell counterfeit two dollar and ten dollar National currency notes. These notes had, after their capture from Brown, been placed in a safe in the office of the Secret Service division on Bleeker street, from which it was alleged they were stolen by General Mauck. The notes were not produced on trial, and to prove their loss the testimony of Col. Elmer Washburn, Misses Jennie Ralph and Rebecca Moore, of the Treasury Department at Washington, and Detectives Kenock and Porter was given. Brown withdrew his plea of not guilty, plead guilty, and was remanded for sentence.

Suit to Foreclose Railway Mortgages.

William H. Willis, a holder of $7,000 worth of bonds of the Buffalo, New York & Erie Railroad Company, the payment of which the Erie Railway Company has guaranteed, and which are secured by a second mortgage of the Buffalo branch, has commenced a suit to foreclose that mortgage. He includes as defendants in the suit the Buffalo, New York & Erie Railroad Company; Hugh J. Jewett, receiver of the Erie Company; Charles F. Hunton, V. Williams, and Butler Duncan, as Trustees of the Buffalo & Erie mortgage, and the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company.

Earnings of the U. P. R. R.

The earnings of the Union Pacific Railroad for the first fifteen days of June 1875 and 1874 are as follows: 1875, $483,008.53; 1874, $[illegible]; increase in 1875, $118,-470.59; average increase in 1875 over 1874, 32 50-100 per cent.

ST. PAUL.

A Civil Rights Case Postponed.

ST. PAUL, MINN., June 22.—Judge Samuel F. Miller, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, appeared to-day on the bench of the United States Circuit Court, now in session in this city, when a case involving the constitutionality of the Supplementary Civil Rights law was reached, in which Judge Nelson, of the United States District Court, recently gave such a strong opinion to the Grand Jury of Winona in favor of its legality. The counsel for the defence interposed a demurrer to the indictment, whereupon Judge Miller said to the United States District Attorney—"Allow me to make a suggestion to you. There is a branch of this subject now pending before the Supreme Court in Washington, which involves some of the same questions that would come up under this, and for that reason I do not care to decide the matter at this time. I think it had better be submitted on written briefs, which I can take with me, and decide the case in the future." To this suggestion the attorneys consented. So the celebrated civil rights case goes over for the present.

BLACK HILLS.

Discoveries of the Scientific Expedition.

Gold Found in Large Quantities.

One Hundred Miners at Work.

FT. LARAMIE, June 22.—A party from the Black Hills arrived to-day. Prof. Jenney's party and the expedition under Col. Dodge have formed a permanent camp on French Creek, near Harney's Peak, called Camp Harney, and close by is the stockade the miners built whom Capt. Mix brought out. Gold seems to have been found in abundance. Nearly one hundred miners were found there in different camps, who have made claims and considerable work in building sluices, digging ditches, &c. Some of the party report that the soldiers in the command have panned out gold dust of a rich quality. The command is reported in good condition.

OMAHA, NEB., June 22.—The following is just received from Col. R. I. Dodge, in command of the escort to Prof. Jenney's Black Hills exploring expedition:

"HARNEY'S PEAK, June 17.—Gold is found in paying quantities on French Creek. Custer's report is confirmed in every particular. The command is well and in fine condition."

Private advices received here say the command found one hundred miners at work in Custer's gulch, taking out gold at the rate of from five to twenty-five dollars a pan. The evidences are strong that there are many more miners in that country. The gold found is coarse and scaly, but easily pounded. Quartz mines are abundant, but no one has prospected them. No Indians were seen by the command. They are north of the peak.

Another Account.

CHICAGO, June 22.—A special correspondent of the Inter-Ocean with the scientific expedition in the Black Hills at Camp Harney, on French Creek, Custer's gulch, under date of June 16th, sends the following telegram via Fort Laramie to-day:

Gold in large quantities, and of good quality, has been discovered in Custer's gulch on French creek, and along this stream for a distance upwards of seven miles toward the source. Since my latest advices sent to you from the expedition, the plans of the scientific corps have been entirely changed, and Camp Jenney, on the east fork of Beaver creek, has ceased to be the permanent point from which the investigation radiates. We were to have been through the Hills on Tuesday, June 9th, but were delayed. Colonel Dodge, with three cavalry companies as a military escort, left Camp Jenney for the purpose of locating a permanent camp in some available place in the vicinity of Harney's Peak. The command marched almost due north along Beaver Creek, then northeast, when at the end of the second day's march Custer's trail was struck in the midst of snow and rain. That officer's line of march was pursued in a southeasterly direction along Castle Creek, where were discovered. This event induced Prof. Jenney, of the scientific corps, to remain in Castle Creek valley for three days, in order to prospect, a cavalry company being left with them. The place at which the geologist's camp is located is fourteen hundred feet east of the 104th meridian, and was named Camp Tuttle. With the remainder of the command Col. Dodge proceeded in a southeasterly direction until Custer's Park was reached, and last Monday the camp was reached on Custer's gulch, and in close contiguity to a stockade built by the miners whom Captain Mix brought out of the Hills this spring. On General Custer's cavalry camp ground prospects were speedily made, and a good color was panned out of gold that was of fine quality. This was done in the presence of your correspondent. The gold fever spread so rapidly that there was hardly one in the command who had not seen and panned out good gold color from these places or gulch mines about Camp Harney, for a distance of seven miles. There are scattered along French Creek four different mining parties, numbering twenty-five men, that have taken up claims, from all of which good color has been obtained. There are also several quartz lodes which produce rich returns, but the greatest stress should be placed the gulch gold diggings. When the gold was discovered the scientists were at Camp Tuttle, and only arrived here yesterday afternoon. They were somewhat astonished at the discovery. It is intended to make this the permanent camp, where the command will remain until the return of the supply train from Laramie.

POLITICAL.

Maine Democratic State Convention.

AUGUSTA, ME., June 22.—The Democratic State Convention met to-day. General Samuel J. Anderson was chosen permanent chairman, and committees were appointed, when a recess was taken.

In the afternoon session resolutions were read and adopted, embodying the following declarations:

The Constitution is the people's only safeguard; the right of the people and States must be sacredly preserved from the touch of military or Congressive usurpation; civil supremacy in times of peace; equality of the rights of all men under the law; a sound currency—coin or its equivalent; tariff for revenue only; the Government economically administered; an honest preservation of the public faith to the public creditor; a return to economy in the administration of the Government, National, State and municipal; the abolition of unnecessary offices and a reduction of salaries; one term for President, with a salary of $25,000.

The resolutions arraign the Republican party for abandonment of principles, profligacy and corruption; condemn the administration in strong terms for the responsibility of the Louisiana usurpation and the attempt to suspend the writ of habeas corpus by the last Congress, and pronounce it no longer safe to trust the reins of government in such hands. The administration is pronounced responsible for the present depressed condition of the country's commerce, for the crippling of the ship building trade, and for the driving of American mercantile marine from the ocean. The people of Maine, suffering under the burden of oppressive taxation, demand reform, and appeal to all men, without regard to party names or past differences, to unite with them to secure this triumph.

An effort was made to incorporate the financial resolutions of the Ohio Democratic Convention, but failed.

Gen. Charles W. Roberts, of Bangor, was nominated for Governor, and the Convention adjourned.

New York Prohibition State Convention.

SYRACUSE, N. Y. June 22.—The Prohibition State Convention commenced its session this evening. A State ticket will be nominated to-morrow.

CHICAGO.

The Cases of the Alleged Illicit Distillers—County Commissioners Indicted.

CHICAGO, June 22.—Judge Blodgett, in the United States Court, to-day, delivered an opinion to apply to the cases of the distillers whose books were seized recently. He decides that books and papers may be seized and used as testimony against their owners.

Four of the County Commissioners have been indicted by the Grand Jury for corrupt practices, and especially in regard to building contracts.

In accordance with Judge Blodgett's decision as to the propriety of the seizure by the Government of books and papers belonging to distillers and others, the United States Marshal this afternoon seized the books belonging to Parker R. Mason, Roelli, Junker & Eastman, and the Lake Shore Distilling Company. The books were delivered without resistance, and no ill feeling seemed to be occasioned by the seizure.

TENNESSEE.

Particulars of the Killing of Brad Yarborough.

MEMPHIS, June 22.—The Ledger has additional information concerning the killing of Esquire Brad Yarborough, near Covington, Tenn., last Saturday, by his brother-in-law, Wm. Kinney. It appears that one had sued the other, and they had been to Covington to attend the trial. On the road home, Yarborough, who was on horseback, passed Kinney, who was in a wagon, when the latter drew a revolver and fired three shots at Yarborough, one taking effect in the right arm-pit. Yarborough rode some forty yards and fell from his horse, a corpse. When found he had his handkerchief wrapped around his hand as if to stop the hemorrhage. A negro who saw the shooting says Yarborough first struck at Kinney with a stick, while a lady who also witnessed it says he did not. Yarborough was a prominent Granger, and his funeral was largely attended. Both were prosperous and influential citizens, and the resources of both sides will be brought to bear on the trial.

Electric Razors,

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN.

No Revival Meetings at Eton.

LONDON, June 22.—At the last moment Moody and Sankey have been notified that they will not be permitted to hold services at Eton. Accordingly they have given up their appointment there, and will go to Windsor and preach in the Town Hall this afternoon.

A War Rumor.

NEW YORK, June 22.—A cable dispatch reports that the British Government has declared war against Burmah. The report causes considerable excitement, especially in well-informed business circles, where large interests would be materially affected by an Anglo-Burmese war. The same dispatch says the Chinese Government is concentrating troops at Mauwyne in consequence of the Anglo-Burmese quarrel. A formidable Chinese army is available for service at any moment on the frontier. This warlike movement has greatly depressed commerce here.

The American Rifle Team.

DUBLIN, June 22.—The members of the American rifle team were engaged in practice shooting to-day at Dollymount. Their score were extremely satisfactory and surprised the spectators.

Two More Failures.

LONDON, June 23—5 A. M.—The morning papers announce the failures of I. H. Runall & Sons, No. 20 King William street, London, with liabilities estimated at $900,000, and William Marshall, of Manchester, with liabilities placed at $500,000.

GERMANY.

Ultramontane Riots in East Prussia.

BERLIN, June 22.—Serious riots, caused by the Ultramontanes, occurred yesterday in the town of Rhein, East Prussia. The Burgomaster was stabbed and dangerously wounded.

WILKESBARRE.

Final Settlement of the Coal Mining Troubles.

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 22.—A final settlement of the coal mining troubles was reached this afternoon. The Region Board called in Charles Parrish, President of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company, with a request that the officers of the Union who have been refused re-employment for their prominent part in the late strike be allowed to go to work. The petition was granted, but Parrish wished it distinctly understood that the Miners Union is no longer to dictate who shall be employed or discharged, and that men shall not be forced to join the Union in order to enter the mines. The greatest harmony prevails, and all the collieries will start to-morrow.

The Fire on Saturday Morning.

We fortunately escaped being consumed in the serious fire on Saturday morning, but we have had a number of organs and several pianos damaged by water and by moving them in great haste. These instruments will be closed out at less than cost. None of them are injured to any serious extent, and not at all in their interior; musically, they are perfect; we will warrant them to be as durable as any others. Here is a chance seldom offered to secure a fine piano or organ at ruinously low figures, and we suggest that persons who want to secure a bargain should call at our rooms without delay. Please remember the place, No. 79 Fifth avenue, and don't forget that these pianos and organs are hardly the worse for the damage—the places where they have been injured can be readily repaired and never noticed. We will furnish them on easy monthly payments if desired.

MELLOR & HOENE,

Sheltering Arms Anniversary.

The managers of the Sheltering Arms and Hospital for Incurables will give their annual dinner at their Home, in Wilkinsburg, on Friday, June 25th. The ladies have made unusual preparations both as to quantity and quality of viands, and it is to be hoped that our people will patronize them very liberally, as the money thus expended will be given to the needy and in this way will they lend to the Lord. The tickets for dinner are only fifty cents, which is but a "widows mite" to those who are blessed with even the smallest portion of this world's goods. Is it not to be expected, therefore, that great numbers will realize on that day, that it is more blessed to give than to receive? Come to our anniversary dinner.

····Councilman Shaltenbrand, of the Sixteenth ward, was thrown from his buggy on Monday and sustained a severe fracture of one of his legs.

····A little child of Mr. Barkhart, a resident of Wylie avenue, near High street, was severely scalded yesterday morning by the contents of a bottle of boiling hot milk being spilled upon it.

····Monday evening, shortly after dark, as is supposed, a thief entered the residence of Mr. J. H. Sewell, attorney-at-law, at the corner of North avenue and Poplar street, Allegheny, and carried from a mantle in one of the lower rooms an elegant clock, valued at seventy-five dollars.

····An infuriated Texan steer created quite an excitement yesterday forenoon in the neighborhood of Sixth street. It was driven into the stock yard of the Red Lion Hotel, where it was shot several times with revolvers and carbines, but not killed, and finally secured with ropes after being carroled with wagons.

····A horse attached to a phaeton in which Miss McMasters and Miss Martin were riding ran away on Penn avenue, near point Breeze, on Monday evening, but beyond damaging the vehicle very badly, no hurt was done. The horse ran against a fence before it was stopped, and the bodies were thrown out. They were badly scared, but not injured.

····Alderman Logan's docket furnished the following yesterday: Mrs. Sarah Orr charged her brother, William McGarvey, with assault and battery, and a warrant was issued for his arrest. Maggie McKenna, white, made an information against Belle Kreamer, colored, for larceny of sleeve buttons worth about $7.50. A warrant was also issued in this case.

····The Pittsburgh members of the Oil Refiners' Association are troubled about the tax on oil, fixed by the Executive Committee. It is all on the question whether the tax shall be fixed at five cents, or put down lower. The local association here has decided to recommend that it be kept at one cent until July 1st., after which possibly some other action will be taken.

····The shirt store of Russell & Son, on Fifth avenue, just above Smithfield street, was entered by burglars on Monday night and robbed of hosiery, underwear, sleeve buttons, studs, neckties, silk handkerchiefs, &c., to the value of between five and seven hundred dollars. This was a very daring robbery, as the store is located within a very short distance of Municipal Hall and the Central Police Station, and is passed by people at all hours of the night.

····Wm. Johnson, a negro, was arrested yesterday on Hiland avenue, by officer Stokely, as the party who is supposed to have been chiefly concerned in the recent robberies perpetrated at the residences of Thomas McConnell, Rev. McKaig, Mr. Peabody, Mr. Holmes, Mr. Moreland and other residents of the East End. A part of the stolen goods were found at Johnson's house. He was committed for trial.

····The Grand Jury made a special presentment to court yesterday, representing that Alexander Haslett and George M. Haslett, father and son, of West Deer township, had been guilty of subornation of perjury, having induced Elizabeth J. ····Mrs. Mary Brown, an insane woman who gives her name as Mrs. Stewart, was arrested yesterday morning on the South Side by officer Reed while she was wandering about the streets with two children in her arms and a thirteen year old girl at her side. She lived in a boat moored below Seventh street with some of her relatives, and they were ignorant where she had gone with the children. A report of the proposals made has been forwarded to Washington for the consideration of the department.

····Sewickley has made arrangements to organize a Fire Department. A public meeting was held on Monday evening, at which the following permanent officers were elected: President, F. M. Hutchinson; Vice President, J. Boobyer; Secretary, E. L. Goodwin; Treasurer, J. H. McIlwaine. A committee was then appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, composed of the following gentlemen: J. E. Stevenson, J. M. Hall, C. F. Nevin, Wm. Dickson, and C. B. Price. Burgess Harbaugh here stated the plan of organization, with cost, etc., of the proposed fire department, and submitted several propositions, which were referred to the following Committee on Organization, with power to confer with Councils: J. P. Kramer, J. L. Koethen, Samuel McKelvy, Robert Watson, William Miller, Cochran Fleming, John C. Allen and John C. Conn. The meeting also passed a resolution condemning the action of a citizen of the borough, in bringing "annoying and vexatious suits" against the Fort Wayne Railroad Company for running the Sunday church train.

KING, REED & CO.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 1875.

BONDS at Frankfort 98⅛.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 26¼.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 117¼.

COL. HENRY M. HOYT, of Wilkesbarre, has been named Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee. He is a gentleman of marked energy of character, and is regarded as admirably suited for the position to which he has been chosen.

THE New York Tribune thinks that the "Confederate" troops were at Boston, partly because Mr. Greeley wrote his name on Jeff. Davis' bail bond. We are grateful for this interesting information. We were not aware that "Confederate" troops were at the Bunker Hill celebration,—and did not realize that they were honoring the the old bail bond.

THE Philadelphia Times does'nt exactly agree with the Catholic organs of this city, relative to the school question, and its relation to politics. It devotes elaborate editorials to the proposition that there is'nt anything in the subject anyhow. Of course papers that know what they are at, always devote column editorials to subjects that have nothing in them!

TWEED is out at last. He was removed from his prison quarters at ten of the night, and driven to his home in the city. He was then left for the night, and yesterday appeared in court, where the proper papers for his discharge were signed. He furnished bail on the new indictments found against him, but was arrested on a civil suit and placed in Ludlow street jail, where he is to remain until he furnishes $3,000,000 bail.

THE Democrats held their Conventions yesterday, at Lafayette Hall. The great contest was over the claims of rival delegates, which was settled by a double committee, to which the claims of the contestants were submitted. It was a fresh and earnest Democratic Convention, of the olden sort; but the ticket had been set up for it, out in one of the suburban wards, one Sunday afternoon, and this was obediently put through.

THE Mayoralty contest has made a step in advance. The writ of mandamus, applied for by Mr. Magee, to compel Councils to administer the oath of office is refused, the Court holding that to administer the oath would be equivalent to a recognition of his right to the office, and that, if the mere oath-taking is all that is desired, it can be done before an Alderman. A writ of quo warranto will now be applied for, which will bring the case squarely up.

TAMMANY is in a ferment, and this over John Morrissey. It was proposed to discipline him, but it wouldn't work. He appeared before the proper committee, and authorized it to prepare his dismissal card, as he would not resign, and he would oppose the management of Tammany, as now constituted. The obstreperous Morrissey, and other friends, have begun a movement in the interest of a rival organization, and Tammany may soon expect to be fought by those who once served within its ranks, and understand its secret laws and methods.

THE English failures and their cause begin to elicit discussion, which will be broadened and strengthened when the detailed statements are received by mail. The accumulation of capital is put down by a free trade paper as the cause, while the absence of capital in this country, and the surplus of currency, are given as the cause of our panic. In other words, two distinct and separate causes produced identically the same effect. What a revelation! Here we had too little capital, and failed; there they have too much, and fail. Where is the golden mean between these two extremes? The absurdity of both propositions may be seen when we remember that "capital is that which affords profit," and hence produces an income. If England has too much, it is, at least, a solid form of wealth, and so is valuable. The truth is, this free trade mania seems to blind the eyes of its votaries to practical truth, and thus prevents their entertaining proper views of any subject. Whatever may have been the cause of the failures, it was not an overplus of capital.

THERE is evidently a feeling of desperation on the part of Tilton and his counsel. For weeks past the New York Herald and Sun have been teeming with artful articles referring to alleged testimony, all of which is palpably intended to prejudice jurors' minds. On Monday Mr. Beach so far forgot himself as to charge that the jury had been tampered with, by the Beecher party. One of the jurors arose and protested against the frequent intimations of this character that were thrown out, and displayed an envelope containing the vindictive articles of the Sun, stating that these were the only improper communications he had received. It thus seems that the Tilton party are not behind in this work. The fact that they are so persistent in this form of charges is very remarkable, except upon the hypothesis that they are playing bluff, and hope to frighten the jury into a disagreement. We judge from Mr. Beach's conduct, that he has no hope of a verdict favorable to his side of the case. The large amount of manufactured stuff published in the Herald and Sun, and called evidence, is so palpably intended to prejudice the case, that it affords evidence of a malicious purpose.

THE Leader makes allusion to our denial of its charge that the early Methodist ministry were "shamefully ignorant," and while it admits that so far as we mentioned names they were exceptions to its rules, yet that it was nevertheless true that the mass of the early ministry were ignorant. In proof of its assertion it quotes from the autobiographies of Cartwright and Finley! Its quotations do not prove its point, yet it is well known among Methodists that Cartwright and Finley were eccentric characters, such as have developed occasionally in all denominations, and are not accepted as historians at all. What the masses favored, and what the Church provided are two different things. From the first the Methodist Church established a course of theological and general study, and the yearly examinations were rigid and severe. And it has been maintained in all Methodism, that her Conference course was fully equal to the average college course of study; or as one of the Leader's quotations actually means, it was considered a little higher than the college training of those days. We repeat, therefore, and will fortify our statements from incontestable history, if need be, that the Leader's statement that those preachers were "shamefully ignorant," is shamefully false.

THE SHRIEVALTY CONVENTION.

The adjourned session of the Shrievalty Convention was held yesterday in Library Hall,—the precautions for insuring order suggested by the GAZETTE being adopted, —and its work was performed in good season. There was some time lost, owing to the extreme caution observed in allowing every question to be fully considered, and probably this was wise. The only error we think attributable to the Chairman, was in his not entertaining a motion to reconsider the action of the Convention, which adopted the report of the Committee on Contested Seats. The report was adopted in a questionable manner, and amid much confusion, and hence there was fair room for doubt as to whether the Convention, left to itself, would have accepted it. All such questionable matters should be settled in a manner so transparently fair that there shall not be the slightest room for doubt, or ill-feeling. Yet we do not imagine a change could have effected the final result, as the first ballot was so close, as between the three leading candidates, that a fusion would have been essential, in any event, and secure a nomination. The order and spirit of the Convention was remarkably good, and the object of the delegates, as a body, was to do their work in the best and most impartial manner.

The experience of the Shrievalty Convention should lead to the holding of all Conventions where the delegates can be seated, and where all others can be excluded, so that no disturbance may be practiced, and the work of the Convention may be fairly done. In such a plan, the entire list of county nominations might be attended to, in a brief time, and in a satisfactory manner. Where Conventions are held in small rooms, the delegates being packed together, and outsiders intermingling with them, there is no certainty that results are honestly arrived at, unless the voting is viva voce. At best, confusion may obtain, if any cause for excitment arise, and thus discredit and bad blood follow. The contrast between the Convention held in City Hall a week ago, and that held in Library Hall yesterday, ought to clearly and strongly emphasize the importance of providing a room where the delegates can be seated, and kept by themselves.

The balloting for candidates developed the fact that, Cluley aside, Fife led, Diehl and Lindsay following closely. But a spirit of uncompromising firmness was exhibited, the delegates sticking to their respective candidates with the most stubborn tenacity. How much this uncompromising spirit may have been developed by extraneous events, is hard to say. The country delegates had imbibed the notion that the tactics of the opposition were to delay, by indecisive ballots, until they should be compelled to go away. This plan they determined to check, and when a motion was made to adjourn in the evening, they promptly voted it down, and announced their determination to stay and fight the battle out.

The votes cast, so far as aggregate results were concerned, did not materially or significantly change from the first. Three of Cluley's men went over to Lindsay, but after this the entire changes merely represented those who were momentarily absent from the hall, and whose votes were not recorded. In a sense, it was a contest of sections, but many influences had served to tighten the lines to a degree that admitted of no changes. It is not proper that we should comment on this while the Convention is in session. The reasons that operate are so manifold that we are not surprised that the delegates were firm to their men. When the contest is ended, we may refer to some of the interior phases of the fight. As it is, we incline to think that the outcome will be all right.

A NOVEL EXCITEMENT.

Moody and Sankey have, at last, invaded Parliament, by means of a flank movement on Eton College. They had been invited to hold one service for the benefit of the boys, and had decided to do so, when suddenly confusion worse confounded became apparent. The teachers and faculty of the school have been skipping around with more alacrity than they have shown for years, so far as we know, inducing the boys to protest against it. Six hundred names have been enrolled to this protest,—but there were three hundred others,—Gideon's band, in number,—who strongly adhered to their wish that the preacher and singer might come. From this the excitement has spread through London, and in the House of Lords the Marquis of Bath anxiously inquired of Lord Lyttleton what was to be done about it; and in the Commons some one accused Gladstone of having given the preachers a letter of introduction. So the excitement goes,—and the question of the hour in England is, shall Moody and Sankey go to Eton, and if they do, shall the boys be allowed to hear them? Thus these simple minded, plain-spoken Christian men have exercised all England.

Undoubtedly they will go to Eton and preach to the boys, unless prohibited by the College authorities. The very fact that so much excitement was raised over the prospect of going, will only stimulate them to go. And equally of course, the boys will turn out to hear them. Boys in England are like boys anywhere else,—they prefer to do what is uproariously forbidden. And the probability is, further, that they have been just enough excited by the discussion had, to be particularly open to Moody and Sankey's influence. And why should they not go? True, the boys are at their studies, but they are also at the most impressible period of their lives, and the utterances of the Gospel may affect them far more now than they would at any future time. Certainly if, as Dean Stanley has admitted, and Gladstone testified, these men preach, simply and plainly, the elemental truths of the Gospel, they will not harm the boys. And a day's relaxation from study will not prove permanently detrimental. If good, not harm, will follow, and these men are impressed that it is their duty to go, we venture that as Americans they will go,—and all the more because of the effort to prevent.

The fact that the expression of a purpose to go to Eton should arouse so much excitement, proves the hold that the Evangelists have on the populace of England. It is evident that their work has made a very profound impression, far and wide, and that the spell of their potent influence is upon all classes,—the Lords and even Royalty, as well as the common people. It will occasion much profound discussion, —this simple fact. Those who believe a supernatural power attends certain selected agents of the most High, will interpret their success in accord with this idea. Those who argue that there must be a rational, ascertainable reason for what they see, will probably discover it, in the directness and unaffected earnestness of the preacher and singer. Still others will see it, in the eclat that attends them, which in a sense prepares the minds of the people to receive their labors. Probably all these, and yet other influences that remain to be explained, are operative; but the fact is undeniable that they have produced a profound excitement, that has reached up into Parliament. Of the permanence of their work time alone can tell; but that they make the Lords quake we cheerfully testify.

—Since writing the above, intelligence arises that Moody and Sankey were refused admission to Eton, and turned aside to Windsor. Thus the college authorities were frightened out of their sense of propriety by two kindly-hearted Americans, who only thought of doing good.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

THE LAST JOURNALS OF DAVID LIVINGSTONE in Central Africa, from 1865 to his death. Continued by a narrative of his last moments and sufferings, obtained from his faithful servants Chuma and Susi, by Horace Waller, H. R. G. L., Rector of Twywell, Northampton, with portrait, maps and illustrations. Published by Harper & Bro., New York. For sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

This is the story of the last seven years of Livingstone's life as told in the memoranda and notes he left behind. It is intensely interesting. There is not a page which does not absorb the attention of the reader. Especially thrilling is the narrative of the closing scenes of Livingstone's life as narrated by his two servants who were with him. The book is handsomely illustrated with maps and plates, and the information it contains has been compiled with rare judgment.

BIOGRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL MISCELLANIES; by Wm. H. Prescott; new edition. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co., Liberty street.

This volume completes the splendid Library edition of the works of this great author, which Messrs. Lippincott & Co., has been issuing. The series is a rare specimen of typographical beauty, and the great publishing house deserves the thanks of the admirers of Prescott for this tribute to his worth.

SIGNA. A story. By Ouida. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, and for sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

This is an Italian story and the writer brings into it all the ideality, the strange mysterious, emotional characteristics of Italian life. The style is epigrammatic and the unravelling of the plot is done with a master's hand. It is a novel which deals with the deep things of the human heart, and it is powerful.

BLUEBEARD'S KEYS and Other Stories. By Miss Thackeray. Published by Harper & Bros. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co., 101 Wood street.

There are four short stories in this pamphlet. They are short love stories, written with graceful ease, and rather above the average. The descriptive parts are very good, and there is a vien of quiet humor running through all the stories that gives them an additional attraction.

STRETTON. By Henry Kingsley. With illustrations. Published by Estes & Lauriat, Boston.

Everything written by Kingsley is bright and pungent. This volume is no exception. Laying aside the plot—it is an English story—there is a charm about the writing which makes it irresistible. Stretton has all the peculiarities of his style, and is a fascinating romance.

WALTER'S WORD. A novel. By James Payn. Published by Harper & Bros., New York. For sale in Pittsburgh by R. S. Davis & Co.

This is one of the Select list, pamphlet edition. It is a story of brigand life in Italy, and is written in a free-spirited style. It is full of thrilling adventure.

COOK'S TOURS, for the season of 1875. The American series over one thousand routes. Published by Cook, Son & Co., 261 Broadway, New York.

Those who wish to make a summer tour will find this work valuable.

HIGHLAND WIDOW, by Sir Walter Scott. For sale in Pittsburgh by J. R. Weldin & Co.

This belongs to Peterson's pamphlet edition of Scott's writings. Each book is sold for 25 cents.

POLITICAL.

HON. HIESTER CLYMER is suggested by a Baltimore paper as Democratic candidate for the Vice Presidency.

SENATOR FRELINGHUYSEN is Senator Sargent's prophesied candidate of the Republican party for the Presidency.

COL. WILLIAM M. GROSVENOR, of Missouri, has announced that he will take the stump for the Republican ticket in Ohio.

ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS sticks to it. He said in a recent speech at Sparta, Ga.: "Gen. Grant is the best man toward the South that ever drew a sword against us."

THE Republicans of Indiana county have nominated the following ticket: Sheriff, Wm. C. Brown; Treasurer, John Ebey; Prothonotary, Albert C. Boyle; County Commissioners, Frederick Butterworth, Frederick Cameron.

THE Hon. Erastus Wells, who has been elected to Congress by the Democrats of the Second Missouri District, was formerly a 'bus driver. His remarkable feat of turning a six horse team in the narrowest street of St. Louis, first attracted attention to his transcendant political abilities.

THE Republicans of Mercer county have nominated this ticket: Senate, F. H. Braggins; Sheriff, A. P. Pew; Prothonotary, Colonel H. N. Warren; Recorder, J. L. Morrison; Clerk of Courts, Capt. J. L. Regnor; District Attorney, A. B. Thompson; Commissioners, Thomas Leech and Capt. A. Struble.

THE friends of ex-Senator Carpenter, of Wisconsin, are reported to have arranged a beautiful little scheme for restoring him to public life. Mr. Harrison Ludington is to be the Republican candidate for Governor, and in case he is elected and a Republican Legislature is secured, Senator Howe is to resign and be appointed a Judge of the Supreme Court, and Mr. Carpenter is to be elected to the vacancy in the Senate. If the Legislature is Democratic, Senator Howe is to hold his seat until it adjourns, and then resign, when Ludington, if he is Governor, will appoint Carpenter to the vacancy.

A TRICKY scheme of the North Carolina Democrats to gain a tenure of several important State offices was originated in connection with the Bunker Hill Centennial. It was for some time the intention of Governor Brogden (Rep.) to be present at the Centennial, and the Democrats ascertaining the fact arranged for the resignation, during the Governor's absence, of Judge Mitchell, of the Supreme Court of the State, that the vacancy and others might be filled by the Lieutenant-Governor, a Democrat. The plan, however, reached the ears of the Governor, and a plot so inconsistent with the spirit of the occasion was frustrated by his remaining at home.

IT is an after-thought, but why didn't some one invite Mr. Toombs to fulfill his promise, and "call the roll of his slaves" at Bunker Hill on the 17th?

DR. EVANS, the noted American duelist in Paris, has a hen which cost him $2,000. If the fowl is as tough as the story, she is qualified for a restaurant pot pie.

JOSIE MANSFIELD has gone to Europe again. She is probably disgusted that she wasn't called as a witness in the Beecher trial, and has left the country forever.

MR. ANDREW JACKSON HOUSTON, son of General Sam Houston, left Austin a few days since for Tyler, where he goes to take charge of the United States Marshal's office at that point.

MR. DELANE, manager of the London Times, and father-in-law of Froude, the historian, is about to retire from journalism. His impersonality is to be personified with a baronetcy.

THE State Commissioners of Virginia have decided to erect Foley's statue of "Stonewall" Jackson in the Capitol square at Richmond, opposite the north end of the Capitol building.

THE Pope thinks there are Cardinals enough to minister to the wants of his flock upon earth, and has reconsidered his resolution to declare the five others who have been appointed, in netto.

SENATOR JONES, of Nevada, denies the report that he lost $700,000 in stock speculation in Wall street a few weeks ago. He told a reporter of the San Francisco Chronicle that he lost nothing, but on the contrary made $50,000 or $60,000.

AT CONWAY, N. H., are four persons—John and Mark Broughton, Mrs. Mark Merrill and Mrs. Elijah Stewart—who are blood relatives to the Queen of England, their grandmother having been a cousin to William IV., making them third cousins to the Prince of Wales.

MR. TENNYSON'S new drama, "Queen Mary," was published in London on Saturday, and we may look for it here in a few days. The London Times, in its review declares, according to a cable dispatch, that "there is more true fire in it than in anything that has appeared since Shakspeare's time," which is drawing it strong.

THE well-known Smith sisters, of Glastonbury, Conn., who have so long courted martyrdom by their refusal to pay taxes unless granted the concomitant right of suffrage, and whose cows were, in consequence, seized by the tax collector, have at last yielded to the exigencies of the law, and, through their attorney, tendered the taxes so long withheld.

MR. LEWIS POCOCK'S collection "Illustrative of the Life and Times of Dr. Samuel Johnson" was recently sold for $7,790. It comprised more than forty of his letters which sold for prices averaging from $25 to $35. The letter to James McPherson, beginning—"Mr. James McPherson, I received your foolish and impudent note"—sold for $150. The original manuscript plan of his dictionary sold for $285.

MR. CHARLES. H. PHALEN, who was accidentally drowned at one of the Williamsburg ferries last week, was graduated at Amherst College last year with high rank, and was a young man of marked ability and promise. Since gradution he had been connected with the publishing houses of Ginn Brothers of Boston and Henry Holt & Co. of New York, being engaged with the latter at the time of his death.

MANY stories about Messrs. Moody and Sankey are running through the London papers. Here is one of them: Mr. Moody was waited upon by the agent of a life insurance office, who desired to effect a policy on his life. Mr. Moody, in a very sanctimonious manner, assured the agent that he never took thought about such worldly affairs, but that if the agent could insure his soul he would be very pleased. "I'm afraid there would be a little difficulty," said the agent blandly, "as ours is not a fire office."

A DAUGHTER of Lewis Scott, of Cos Cob, Conn., recently found a nitro glycerine cartridge in her father's pocket, and supposing it to be a discharged pistol cartridge, tried to fit it upon the top of a lead pencil, when it exploded, tearing all the fingers from one hand, and terribly shattering the other.

A CASE of chronic laziness is reported at Washington. A young man appointed to a clerkship in the Treasury Department was conducted to his desk and informed what his duties were. The Chief of the Department discovered him, a short time after, comfortably reposing in his seat with his feet characteristically resting on the desk. "Hello," said the Chief, "don't you expect to do any work?" "Work, the d—l!" exclaimed the astonished youth, "I had to work hard enough to get here."

THE Acting Secretary of the Treasury has telegraphed to the Collector of Customs at Charleston to allow the political exiles who arrived on the bark Ping from Urugasy to land, no good reason being shown why they should be excluded from this country. It appears that though the vessel sailed under the Oriental flag, she carried no papers of any kind. There is some trouble in regard to her legal duty in the United States, and it is supposed that she has incurred severe penalties by her arrival as aforesaid.

NOTWITHSTANDING the numerous reverses which were met with during the Spring, the peach crop of the Delaware peninsula bids fair to be larger this year than ever before. Throughout the peninsula the trees are profusely laden, and the crop will be of such large proportions as to compel the growers to open new markets in order to dispose of all the fruit. In 1869, when about three million baskets were shipped to Philadelphia and New York, the growers thought that the crop of the peninsula had reached its height. But this year the expectations of the most sanguine have been more than realized.

A DOUBLE MURDER occurred in the little town of Manisa, Illinois, on the Belleville & Southern Illinois Railroad, about thirty-five miles from St. Louis, on Sunday night. It appears that a number of farm laborers were at the groggery of Wm. Klass, drinking pretty freely. Disputes arose and considerable quarreling occurred, and at last a man named Anselin Russell drew a large pocket knife and stabbed John Grimes in the breast, groin, thigh and hand. Russell then turned on John Kelsey, plunged his knife into his chest and abdomen, and then fled. Russell was found and arrested. Grimes died in two hours, and Kelsey can not recover.

AN EARTHQUAKE AT SEA.

Experience of the Captain and Crew of the Ship Hamilton.

The ship Hamilton, of Boston, arrived at New York early Sunday morning, with a cargo of sugar from Manila. Her Commander, Capt. Ross, states that at 3 A. M. on June 4, when in latitude 19 degrees 16 minutes, longitude 57 degrees 51 minutes, all on board felt the shock of an earthquake, which lasted fully 10 minutes. During this time there was a heavy sea running, and in different places the water appeared to revolve in circles like a whirlpool. When the disturbance first began the sea was quite smooth, but as the shock increased in violence the waters became correspondingly agitated, terrifying those who were on deck and arousing those who were sleeping below. Suddenly the vessel received a shock, as if she had grounded, and a peculiar rumbling noise filled the air. Simultaneously with the shaking, the sky assumed a dull, leaden hue. The atmosphere was also thick and hazy. During the continuance of the shock, control of the vessel was completely lost, and the ship refused to obey the helm. There was little, if any, wind at the time, yet the vessel was tossed about as though in the midst of a gale. The Captain describes the upheaving of the waves as similar to what would occur if a series of heavy submarine explosions had taken place. The duration of the shock was long enough to enable those who were below to reach the deck and witness the unusual sight. After the disturbance had subsided, the sea again became as calm as before. The vessel sustained no damage and her cargo appears to be intact, although her 5,000 boxes of sugar were thrown about by the shock.

SCARECROWS.

A Pretty Girl in the Field.

Most travelers, we have no doubt, have been amused, as we have often been, by the devices of the farmers to scare crows away from corn fields. The crow is a very knowing and cunning bird. When he sees a little green blade poking up an inch or two above the surface of the ground, he knows that, at the bottom of it is a kernel of corn, and he takes hold of the blade with his bill, pulls it up, and eats the kernel of corn which adheres to the root. Farmers find it necessary, in order to save their crops, to protect the fields against the devastation of these birds. For this purpose they construct effigies of men and place them in the field. Sometimes these figures are very fantastic, and while they frighten away the crows, serve to excite laughter in the passer-by. On a recent occasion we observed in a field quite a novel device for searing away crows. It was not an ugly and uncouth caricature of a man, nor anything of the kind usually employed for such a purpose. It was a good representation of a school-girl, tastefully dressed. What can the man mean? thought we. He has got up a device too pretty for his purpose. Even the crows will not be afraid of such a nice-looking little girl. The owner seems to have sacrificed his crop of corn to his fondness for art and his love for the beautiful. The sagacious crow knows that it is never harmed by little girls, and that it may light near this one with impunity.

But let us see: Was not the man shrewder than we give him credit for being? He probably had reflected that where there was even an image of a girl as pretty as this, the boys were sure to gather around; and crows have a mortal horror of boys! So he had contrived to ornament his field, and undoubtedly to keep away the crows at the same time.—N. Y. Ledger.

NIAGARA FALLS.

Changes in the Cataract.

A letter from Niagara says: "As is well known, the theory is that gradually through the long lapse of centuries the fall has by slow degrees worked its way from the opening of the chasm several miles below. If this theory be correct, the upward progress of the fall has been exceedingly slow, for the oldest inhabitant is able to indicate but brief changes in its formation. Careful observers, however, detect an obvious change in the conformation of the Horseshoe Fall. The incessant rush of the mighty cataract has perceptibly deepened the indenture near the American side, so that its shape is quite different from what it was a year ago. The great bulk of the water flows over this fall, and it is quite natural that the wearing away of the edge should be more rapid and perceptible here than at other points. The American Fall does not show as straight a line as heretofore, proving very clearly that time is working its changes here also. Some go so far as to assert that the fall will gradually work its way up to Buffalo; but the possibility of such an event is not very likely to disturb the equanimity of the hotel keepers or cause any diminution in the value of real estate. There is one positive change that old tourists particularly notice, and that is the absence of the old light-house. No vestige of it remains, and it is a matter of general surprise, considering the fine view obtained from its summit, that a new and more massive and substantial structure is not erected in its place. Of course, the necessity of such a tower, as far as sight-seeing is concerned, is obviated to some extent through the elevators enabling visitors to view the Falls from the Suspension bridge towers; but then the poetic effect is vastly different, for in the latter case one gets only a bird's-eye view of the Falls, and in the former one stood on the brink of the awful chasm itself, and couik realize more fully its grand and overwhelming sublimity."

AN English inventor makes shirt collars, cuffs and smaller articles of wearing apparel by cementing together two or more layers of muslin by means of a mixture of starch, spermaceti and washing blue, and passing them through rollers. The articles are then cut to the desirable shape with suitable laps at the exposed and wearing edges, whereby the same effect is produced as by linen articles.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, June 23, 1875.

Quiet, other than that of preparation for approaching dividend days, has fallen upon banks, and there is not the stir that we have had. Whether this is for the day, or is suggestive of approaching summer, we do not assume to say. The weather was sultry and showery and politics were at fever heat yesterday, circumstances which may have deferred all monetary movements that could be deferred. There is, however, a feeling of general hopefulness and confidence, the only complaint of the banks being that they have made less than usual during the past six months.

In real estate, local stocks, and rentages quiet and dullness prevail.

The following is an abstract of reports made to the Comptroller of Currency, showing the condition of the national banks of the United States at the close of business on Saturday, May 1, 1875:

NEW-YORK, June 22, 1875.

Money was extremely easy this afternoon, and loaned freely at 1 per cent. on call. The feature of the market was free offerings of capital for the balance of the year at 4 per cent., one lot of $500,000 being offered at this rate without finding borrowers. Prime mercantile paper 3½a5. Sterling was weak at 486½a486⅞ for sixty days and 489½a490 for sight. The produce exports for the week were $5,697,019. The customs receipts were $346,000. Gold opened at 117⅛, and closed at 117⅛. The borrowing rate was 2 per cent., and carrying 2a3. Loans were also made flat. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $436,000. The clearings were $42,000,000. Governments are firm. Railroad bonds are dull. State bonds are quiet, except Tennessees, which declined in the morning on rumors of default of the July interest, but closed strong at an advance of one per cent. from the lowest point.

The day opened with a further improvement in financial circles and a rise in securities on the Stock Exchange. Subsequently there was a reaction, but the markets closed steady for bonds and stocks, and weaker for gold and exchange. The stock market opened strong at an advance of ½ to ⅞ per cent. as compared with the closing quotations yesterday. Pacific Mail was the leading feature, advancing from 38 to 40 amid great excitement. Lake shore rose to 61⅛, Erie to 14⅛, St. Paul to 33, Northwest to 37⅞, Union Pacific to 74, Western Union to 74⅛, Rock Island to 103, and Ohios to 53⅛. Towards midday Pacific Mail fell off to 36⅛, Western Union to 72⅞, Lake Shore to 60⅞, and Union Pacific to 73⅞, but at the second call the market was firmer and prices showed a recovery of ⅛ to ½ per cent. After the call the market was weaker again.

At the final close the market was generally firm at a recovery of ⅛ to ½ per cent. from the lowest point of the afternoon. The greatest advance was in Pacific Mail, the last sales of which were at 36⅞a37. Lake Shore rose from 60⅛ to 60⅛, Western Union from 72⅛ to 72⅞, and Delaware, Lackawanna & Western from 119⅛ to 119⅞. Northwest closed at 37⅞a37⅛, and St. Paul at 32⅞a32⅛. Union Pacific was quiet and steady at 73⅞a73⅞. Erie closed at 13⅞, after selling up to 14⅛.

The transactions on the Stock Exchange aggregated 258,000 shares, of which 95,000 were Pacific Mail, 44,000 Western Union, 5,000 Northwest, 28,000 Erie, 51,000 Lake Shore, and 6,000 Union Pacific. Mariposa stock, long considered dead, sold to-day at eight dollars per share.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 22, 1875.

There was nothing particularly new or important developed in commercial circles to-day; business continues quiet, the demand for all the leading staples was restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, while as regards values there were no important changes.

APPLE BUTTER—50@55c ₩ gallon.

APPLES—Sales of green apples at $2, 50@4, 50 ₩ bbl, as to quality and condition.

BEANS—The market is reported quiet but steady at $1,85@1,90 for mediums, and $1,95@2,00 for navies.

BUTTER—Dealers all agree in reporting a dull market, and with the stock accumulating and a stronger disposition to realize, prices are weak and drooping; prime to choice solid packed, 16@18; do. rolls, 2@3c additional.

CHEESE—There was an unusually active demand to-day, and it begins to look as if a reaction had set in, although as yet there has been no improvement in prices; we continue to quote prime Ohio Factory at 10½@11. Our New York dispatch, of Monday, reported that market firmer, from which it seems probable that there has been an increased demand for export.

DRIED FRUIT—Quiet and unchanged; Apples, 7½@8½. Peaches, (halves) 10½@11.

EGGS—The demand is less active, and the market easier in consequence, although prices remain as last quoted, 19@20.

FLOUR—Trade in this staple continues quiet, and prices remain unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $5,75@6@6,25, the outside figure for choice Minnesota (baker) flour; winter, $6,25@6,50 for red and $6,75@7 for amber and white. Rye flour, $6@6,25.

GREEN STUFF—Market is well supplied, but with a very fair demand prices are still pretty well maintained. New Potatoes, $6,50 to $7 ₩ bbl; String Beans, $4 to $4.50 ₩ bbl; Cabbage, $2 to $3 ₩ bbl; Peas, $3,50 to $4 ₩ bbl; Cucumbers, $2,50 to $3 ₩ box; Onions ₩ bbl, $3,50 to $4; ₩ box, $1 to $1,25; Strawberries, 12 to 15c ₩ quart box.

GROCERIES—The grocery trade was quiet to-day, and devoid of any new or important features to which reference was not made in our preceding report. Both Sugars and Coffees continue firm but quiet.

GRAIN—There is no improvement to note in grain circles, business continues exceedingly dull, the markets are devoid of animation, the demand is confined almost entirely to supplying immediate wants, while as regards prices there have been no quotable change for several days. Some of our merchants report that trade is more depressed now than it has been at any time since the panic. Wheat is quiet and nominal at $1,25 to $1,30 for Penna. and Ohio red, and $1,30 to $1,35 for amber and white. The Oat market also continues quiet and unchanged; 66 to 67c for mixed, and 68 to 69c for white. Ear Corn, 73 to 75 cents on track, according to quality, and shelled, 77 to 79c, in elevator. Rye nominal at $1,15.

HAY—The receipts of baled are increasing, and the market is quiet but unchanged; we continue to quote at $21 to $23 for fair to prime timothy.

POTATOES—There is a continued steady demand and prices are fully sustained; sales, in a jobbing way, at $1 to $1.10 per bushel, the outside figure for Peach Blows.

PROVISIONS—There is a very fair demand and the market is firmer. A Chicago paper of Monday says: "Indeed, the improved turn began on the previous day, as indicated in our report then, so many operators having concluded it was about time for a change, that the change occurred in consequence. The outgo of pork during the past week was only moderate, but lard and meats have moved out rather freely, a considerable portion of the shipments being made direct for Europe, the decline in prices having invited buyers to take hold. The firmness on Saturday was generally ascribed to a stronger feeling in New York; but the latter was rather the effect than the cause."

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, June 22, 1875.

Trade was exceedingly quiet to-day, and, as compared with yesterday, there was no change in prices. Crude, for immediate shipment, $1,37½ to $1,40 ₩ bbl. Refined was quoted at 10¼, deliverable on Connellsville cars to go to Baltimore, but there were no sellers at the figure in question, which does not cover actual cost of making.

The situation is not by any means all that could be desired, yet our refiners are hopeful of the future; they are in hopes that when the Conduit pipe line gets into active working operation, thereby reducing the cost of the transportation of the raw article, they will be able to compete successfully with all points. Furthermore, it is said that if the Combination does not succeed in getting the outside refiners into the association, and advance the tax from one to 2½ or 5 cents ₩ gallon between now and the 1st of next month, that a number of Pittsburgh refiners will draw out.

The Barrel trade continues dull and unchanged; countries, $1,10@1,15; city make, $1,30@1,32½.

New York Breadstuffs Market—Weekly Review.

NEW YORK, June 21.—This day week we left our Flour market fairly active and stronger for most grades; subsequently we had a good degree of activity and buoyancy up to the close of Tuesday's market, it moving in sympathy with Wheat; since then under more liberal offerings, less favorable news from Liverpool and Glasgow, and a marked reaction in Wheat, prices of all grades valued at $4,50@6,50 per barrel, have declined, the evidence the most marked in Spring Wheat brands, of which the supplies are increasing. At Thursday's and Friday's markets holders could only make prompt sales by submitting to some decline; at this the export demand was more animated, and the trade purchased fancy brands of Minnesota more freely, and a fair business may be noted in Amber Wheat Extras at same concession from our last figures; most holders of Winter Wheat brands are reluctant to make any concession, well knowing that the Flour cannot be duplicated at present prices, and a material advance in inland freights is very probable at an early day. Our present stock of Winter Wheat brands, it is well known, is moderate, and we find jobbers and retail dealers hold less than usual at this season of the year, but cannot be induced to increase their stocks materially at the present time, though feeling very confident of a better state of things; as the season advances there is reason to count on a more active export demand after the month of July. Indeed, the intelligence from Europe and from California, which we have published of late, fully confirms this view, and we feel confident of a more healthy trade the coming season. A fair business has been done in No. 2 and Superfine at lower and variable figures, and we find the stock of standard and well known brands of Shipping Extras is limited, and holders, owing to the much higher prices paid for Wheat at the West since the 1st of June, do not press them on the market very generally, though they can only be sold readily by making concessions to correspond to the prices current for brands comparatively unknown. New Patent Process have been extremely slow of sale, are lower, and are not as popular with the trade as formerly. It seems useless to try and introduce them, or sell them freely much above $6,50 per barrel. There are a few brands long and favorably known that can be sold to a limited extent at $7@7,50, and one or two brands at $8,50@9, but at the present time there are very few families that will pay these prices. Winter Wheat Families have declined, and have sold slowly. At the close the market is easier and quiet. The sales of the week are 92,700 barrels, and the exports are 21,022 barrels, against 30,450 the corresponding week last year.

Our Wheat market the past week has been very active, and at times much excitement has prevailed. Early in the week prices of Spring rapidly improved under a brisk Continental demand with a fair inquiry for Great Britain and for home use, holders had a marked advantage, the moderate arrivals and small quantity then on the canal and railroad enabled holders of No. 2 Milwaukee to command an advance of 5@6c ₩ bushel. The present supply proving altogether inadequate to the wants of shippers, a very large business was done in Nos 1 and 2 Milwaukee for this and next month's delivery at high figures; subsequently this demand (chiefly Continental) abated, and under more liberal presents and prospective arrivals prices declined, though the principal holders seemed very reluctant to yield, evincing confidence in the future, regarding the situation as much stronger than this day week. We have felt very confident during the past Winter that the consumption of Wheat in Europe by cattle and horses was much larger than the trade generally supposed and have alluded to it from time to time. Now when it is discovered that France and Germany have no surplus, and that the former is importing very freely, it has been intimated by leading English papers that they misrepresented their crops last year; but the truth is, they have fed it out to the stock, the very cold and backward Spring increasing this unusual demand, and it now seems probable that Italy, France, Switzerland, Holland and Spain, require all the surplus of Eastern Europe to take them through the Summer months, and should their crops partially fail them we look for a lively call from them for our surplus Wheat and Rye. It is very apparent to us that the area under Wheat on the Continent is below an average, but there is a considerable increase in the area under Barley and Oats. Our advices thence are unusually interesting and important—a hence seasonable weather and timely rains in the more northern provinces may remove the present apprehension. The growing crop in Great Britain promises well, but their present supplies are limited, believed to be much less than at the corresponding time last year; this is owing to its being used freely for cattle food. From the North-West our advices are highly favorable for the growing crop, and the movement in Wheat for the Lake ports is increasing. In the Winter Wheat States the growing crop is slightly improved. The intelligence from California is of the highest importance; a severe rain storm of more than four days' duration has done great damage to the standing as well as the cut grain. There have been no clearances from San Francisco this month so far, and nothing of moment from Oregon. The exports from this port have been 929,835 bush., against 1,620,000 bush. the corresponding week last year.—Tribune.

Chicago Lumber Market.

CHICAGO, June 21.—The cargo market was more active Saturday, and steadier. The offerings were moderate, numbering nineteen cargoes in the morning, to which several were added later. Local dealers were the principal buyers, and, although in some instances it took a good while to make the sales, the docks were nearly cleared by night, only two late arrivals remaining over. It is likely that the receipts this week will be considerably smaller than for two or three weeks past, as the recent bad break in the market and the unsettled condition of lumber freights has led many manufacturers to take steps to materially reduce their shipments. Lumber is now $1,00@2,50 per m feet lower than it was last season, and common stuff at least is selling at a heavy loss. With piece stuff $8,00, the loss is $1,50 per m, which is the value of the timber itself in the tree. Manufacturers who are able to hold their stuff have given notice that they shall do so. Lumber is moving out of the yards freely, though at low prices. These facts naturally create a stronger feeling, and the opinion is expressed by prominent dealers that lumber has at last touched bottom. The cheapness of the stuff is universally conceded, and it is thought that the trade will willingly take it at the current prices. Saturday's quotations were: Piece stuff, $7,75 to $8,00; good to choice boards and strips, $11,00 to $13,50; common ditto, $8,50 to $10,00; lath, $1,50; shingles, $2,20 to $2,65.

BOATS LEAVING TO-DAY.

Cincinnati—Exchange, 4 P. M.

The stage of water was three feet three inches and falling. There was a heavy rain during the afternoon, and the indications last evening were favorable for more.

THERE were no arrivals or departures, and there are no boats due.

THE Indiana declined 400 bags of oil meal at Memphis at $2,75 per ton.

THE eight new cast steel boilers for the new Belle Lee will cost over $10,000.

THE Ianthe blew out a cylinder head last week, and was repaired at the South Side Foundry.

THE steamer Active is lying at the mouth of Elk river in the custody of the United States Marshal.

A HEAVY storm of wind and rain passed over Little Rock, Saturday morning, unroofing several houses.

PARTICULARS in regard to the burning of the R. W. Skillinger at Cincinnati, on Monday night, will be found elsewhere.

THE Western was expected to arrive at Bismarck from Yankton on the 16th and the Key West was to leave Bismarck for Carroll on the 22d.

THE Arlington from Memphis, has for Pittsburgh: Eagle Cotton Mill Company, 35 bales of cotton; Birmingham, Watson & Co' 30 bales of cotton.

THE Exchange did not get off yesterday as announced, but she will positively take her departure to-day, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind.

COAL dealers at Memphis hope a rise in the Upper Ohio is not among the probabilities at this time. They desire an advance in the price of the commodity in which they are interested, as no profits have been theirs for some time past. Ice dealers also complain of dullness and small returns. Neither business is equal to that done last year by very much.

YESTERDAY'S Cincinnati Gazette says:—The river rose two feet in the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock last evening, with 13⅛ feet of water here by the marks at the water-works. Capt. John Kyle has returned from Pittsburgh. United States Local inspectors Fisher and Deveny went to Pittsburgh on the Fleetwood last evening to inspect Capt. W. P. Ripley's new steamer Ironsides.

A LETTER from Captain Dan. Marratta, agent for the Coulson line of steamers at Bismarck, under date of 14th, reports that the Josephine would leave there for Fort Benton the day following with a company of British soldiers and army supplies, en route for the outposts of the frontier. This, we understand, is the first time Her Majesty's troops were ever carried up the Missouri on an American steamer.

A NEW lower coast packet is being built at New Orleans to run in place of the Marie. She is a propeller, and is expected to be very fast, and will be fitted up in a luxuriant style for passengers, having a cabin forward and aft. She is 132 feet in length, 21 feet beam, 8 feet depth of hold, and 2½ feet guards. She will have a cylinder 32 inches in diameter, with a low pressure boiler. There will be a great saving in building this steamer in the State of Louisiana, as she will be allowed free wharfage for seven years.

THE Louisville Courier says: We, in common with the people along the entire front of the river, want a Mission church and Sunday-school built. There are lots of people down there who would rather go to church for the interests of their souls, than to go to one where good clothes seem to be all that is necessary to make them appear righteous in the sight of God. Ah! the soul lives forever in heaven, but in hell the clothes don't last long. Let us have a poor folks' church down on the levee, and God will smile on it.

TUESDAY'S Cincinnati Commercial says:—The Frank Willard left for Pittsburgh at daylight Sunday morning, under charter of Lieutenant Rockwell, of the Government Light-house Board. She goes to Pittsburgh direct, and after inspecting the various lights put up, and consulting the Coal Exchange and river men at that point, will make such changes in the location of the lights on her down trip as may be deemed necessary.... The Arlington, from Memphis, arrived with a fair trip, and reshipped 85 bales of cotton for Pittsburgh on the Hudson. The returns on Saturday. The Rover, with 3 barges of iron ore, from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, passed up at 2 P. M.

A PARKERSBURG paper says:—The following well known river men are residents at Williamstown, West Virginia:—Captain B. F. Hall commands the Charlie Brown, with B. F. Hall, Jr. as mate. Charles and Robert Hunter are second mate and watchman, respectively, of the Exchange. James Hunter is mate of the Hudson. Captain F. A. Athey is master of the Cattaraugus; J. H. Cammack clerk; Marion Hazelrigg, lately steward, Spencer Hazelrigg, mate; J. W. Kinnaird, engineer. Captain James M. Berry, Clem. Green, pilot; Oliver Baker, steward; Ed. McIntosh, cook; and White Metcalf, mate of the Kittie Nye. J. W. Kinnaird is engineer on the Monitor. Chas. Loring commands the Nat City, and J. W. Hazelrigg is mate. Capt. G. M. Berry is at home.

A DISPATCH from St. Louis, dated June 21, says:—The river here has risen 3 feet since last evening, and is now rising at the rate of 2 inches an hour. All of the small streams below Keokuk are overflowing their banks. At Louisiana, this morning the Mississippi rose 5 feet in three hours. The river is full of driftwood, rails, &c., and it is said that considerable property has been destroyed. The Savannah came in from Dubuque bringing 400 tons for reshipment, which the Belle of Shreveport gets, and leaves for New Orleans at 10 A. M. to-morrow. The Josie, of the Diamond line, is due to-morrow, with 7 barges of grain in bulk. This is the largest shipment of the kind which has ever been brought here this year. The Belle of Lacrosse, Captain Lon. Briston, left for St. Paul with 125 cabin passengers. Travel on the Upper Mississippi is setting in heavy. The C. B. Church has 815 tons of ore and 130 barrels of fine clay for Wheeling, and a small quantity of miscellaneous freight.

Steamboat Skillinger Burned—Loss Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

[From the Cincinnati Commercial, of Tuesday.]

At half past 11 o'clock Monday night, during the heavy thunder and rain storm which prevailed, an alarm of fire was turned in from box 197, Market and East Front streets, Fulton. The flames were in the steamer R. W. Skillinger, and burned the boat to the hull. The watchman of the boat, Lyman D. Bradford, states that he was asleep in the forward part of the vessel and was aroused by a shock. Then he says the vessel was struck by lightning. He discovered fire in the aft, and immediately gave the alarm on the bell, and was joined in the alarm by the watchmen clanging the bells on the steamers Mary Miller and Era No. 9, which were lying close by. The alarm was soon taken up by the city fire bells, and the engines of the district responded promptly. Finding that the boat was surely lost, Bradford jumped into the river and swam ashore. For a time it seemed that all three boats must go. The Mary Miller lay between the Skillinger and the shore. Her lines were cast loose and she drifted into the stream, swinging into the shore a short distance below, and out of danger. The Skillinger burned very rapidly, and all above the hull was consumed in about an hour. The Era No. 9 was lying immediately below the Skillinger, and faced the fire through. She was on fire several times, and was severely scorched, but by the diligence of the firemen was saved.

The Skillinger was the property of Captain Thornton Russell and was valued at $15,000; insured for $10,000 in the Eureka Company, of Cincinnati, the Peabody, of Pittsburgh, and other companies. She was about four years old, and was employed in the Kanawha river trade. Captain Russell purchased her eighteen months ago. Her hull was built at Marysville, her cabin added at Wheeling, and she was afterwards lengthened at Madison. It is possible that the hull is saved, but this is doubtful. She had been lying at Litherbury's Landing for about a week.

The Era No. 9 is John Robinson's old circus boat. We understand that she sold her yesterday. There was nothing in the way of fire on the Skillinger before she ignited except a few lamps, and it is unlikely that she caught from these. Bradford is positive she was struck by lightning.

The Gazette of the same date says: The Skillinger was built by A. J. Flesher, at Murraysville, W. Va., about seven or eight years ago. Her dimensions were: Length, 200 feet; beam, 31½ feet; depth of hold, 5 feet; cylinders, 15 inches diameter; 5 feet stroke. She drew less than two feet of water. She was owned by Captain Russell and others, of Pittsburgh, and was probably insured in city companies. She was a stern-wheel boat, and always did a good passenger business, running most of the time between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Recently she was running between Ironton and Pittsburgh. She was brought to this port to lie up for a better stage of water, and was advertised to be sold Thursday, July 22. Her value was about $10,000. The machinery was fully exposed to the terrible heat and fire, and of course will be worth little after having passed through such an ordeal. The hull only remains filled with charred debris and the ruined machinery.

The Skillinger's last trip was from Pittsburgh, arriving here on Saturday, June 5.

HOME NEWS.

The Gazette for the Summer.

Persons leaving the city for the summer can have the Daily GAZETTE sent to them by mail, by leaving their orders at the counting-room.

Temperance.

Miss Annie M. Edwards, of Cleveland, Ohio, will deliver her celebrated address, "The Physiological and Hygienic effects of Alcohol," at the mass temperance meeting this evening in the Bingham street M. E. church, South Side.

Winding Up.

The German American Bank, of Penn avenue, has determined to close up its affairs and pay off depositors, owing to a depressed state of business on Penn avenue caused by the "Nation Trust Co.'s affairs," making the banking business in that locality unprofitable.

Bishop Bowman Institute.

The Commencement exercises of the Bishop Bowman Institute will be held this morning at ten o'clock, in St. Peter's Episcopal church, Grant street. There will be essays by the graduating class, an address to the graduates by the Rev. W. H. Mills, good music, &c. It is a very agreeable programme, and a fine entertainment is anticipated.

The Newsboys' Festival.

The newsboys' festival was patronized by all classes, both young and old, and was a highly enjoyable affair in every particular. In the early part of the evening the Sabbath school boys, together with others to the number of sixty or more, were treated. They were all arranged in a circle, and after feasting on cream and cake they were addressed by Mrs. Collins, Mr. Bryce and Mr. Youngson, and allowed to depart, satisfied and happy. We learn that the festival is to be continued this evening.

The Alleged Counterfeiters.

Yesterday morning U. S. Commissioner Gamble gave a hearing to one of the men arrested on the charge of being engaged in the counterfeiting business. The man was W. H. Frank, alias J. R. Reed, alias S. V. Russell. The hearing resulted in his commitment for trial. He is charged with having in his possession ten counterfeit ten dollar bills, purporting to be of the Richmond National Bank of Indiana. David D. Davis, the Allegheny letter carrier, who is arrested on the same charge, also had a hearing, and was released on bail in the sum of $5,000—his father being his security.

THE TURF.

A Lively Race at Fairview.

There was a lively trot at Fairview Park, on the Perrysville road, Monday afternoon. Three well known butchers of Allegheny entered their horses for the race, and the occasion drew together a large number of the knights of the cleaver. The horses entered were George Evan's "Billy," Thomas Kimbelin's "Honest Jack," and George Kimberlin's "Doily." The race resulted in "Honest Jack" carrying off the first prize of $75, and "Doily" taking the second prize of $50. The time made was good, and the race was a very interesting one.

THAT PROPOSITION.

The Finance Committee Fail to Meet.

A meeting of the Finance Committee was called for yesterday afternoon, to consider the proposed compromise with the stockholders of the Nation Trust Company, but owing to the political excitement no quorum was secured, and those present adjourned until three o'clock this afternoon. It is understood that a new proposition is to be submitted from the stockholders, to the effect that they be granted an extension of four years in which to pay their indebtedness to the city, instead of being released upon the payment of forty per cent. of it.

THE MAYORALTY CONTEST.

The Court Decides Not to Grant an Injunction on Councils.

Yesterday morning in the Court of Common Pleas No. 2 Judge Kirkpatrick rendered a decision in the matter of the application of Mr. Magee for an injunction upon City Councils to compel them to administer to him the oath of office of Mayor of the city.

The Court held that such an act on the part of Councils would be an official recognition of his right to the office which might be prejudicial to public interests. Nor was such an act necessary in order to place the relator in a position to apply for a writ of quo warranto. He might be sworn in by an alderman, after which the application for a quo warranto would be in order, if the office claimed by him be refused or denied.

HOITY-TOITY.

A Lively Little Set-to Between Prominent Politicians.

Meteorologically, things were at a fever heat yesterday, and politically matters were likewise. It was this cause which led to a pretty lively scene on Fifth avenue during the afternoon, between a couple of well-known Democratic politicians. Mr. John A. Warden and Mr. Frank M. Hutchison were the principals. It seems they had been discussing the political situation, and their views were not exactly in accord. The difference of opinion was considerable, and the breach widened the more they debated. Finally the wordy warfare developed into something more demonstrative, and it is recorded that the Sewickley champion measured his length on the sidewalk—while his opponent failed to ward off a blow which decorated his countenance with a discoloration. Mutual friends at this crisis stepped in and the warriors were hurried off in opposite directions from the field of gore. It was a brief but lively scene.

THE TROY HILL ROAD.

Another Meeting of the Viewers and Property Holders.

Another meeting of the viewers appointed to levy the cost of improving the Troy Hill road was held in the Allegheny Common Council chamber yesterday afternoon. A number of the property holders on Troy Hill were present and submitted their protests and complaints against the assessment levied upon them.

Mr. Gallagher, of the viewers, stated that they would take all these complaints and protests submitted, and go over the property carefully and endeavor to the best of their ability to correct any errors made by them. He said that they would go over the ground again and examine the property adressed.

Several attorneys, who were present in the interest of the property holders, stated that they desired to meet Mr. Rodgers, the City Solicitor, and have a conference with him in regard to the assessment for sewers, walls, fences, &c., for which the property-holders object to paying, as in their opinion these items must be paid for by the city. If they can show Mr. Rodgers that such is the case and have him instruct the Viewers to that effect, they think the viewers will at once reduce the total amount of the assessments to the amount necessary to defray the costs of those improvements alone that were authorized by the act of Assembly.

The meeting then adjourned.

FIRE THIS MORNING.

Hussey, Dravo & Co.'s Steel Casting Works Destroyed.

This morning at about half-past two o'clock a fire broke out in the steel casting works of Messrs. Hussey, Dravo & Co., on the South Side of the Monongahela river, just below the Suspension Bridge. The building was a balloon frame structure, covered with a tar-paper roof, and it burned like shavings. It was a two-story building, extending from the river bank about one hundred feet back, and was about forty feet wide. The fire was first discovered in the corner nearest Carson street and right in the vicinity of the furnace. The police officer on the beat sounded the alarm. In five minutes the building was a sheet of flames, and burning rapidly. The flames shot up fully fifty feet in the air, the sparks were scattered in all directions, and the sight from the river bank was grand. The firemen were on the ground in a few moments, and when it was discovered that a row of houses in the vicinity was in danger a second alarm was sounded. By vigorous efforts the flames were confined to the building where it originated, but it was completely destroyed. For a time the office of Felix C. Negley & Co., coal dealers, and the fruit warehouse of Messrs. Hussey, Dravo & Co., together with a row of brick houses owned by the Glass Works Company, within a hundred feet of the fire, were in danger, but the prompt efforts of the firemen prevented a spread of the flames. The people in the houses were considerably frightened, and many of them removed some of their household goods.

In about half an hour the building was nothing but smoking ruins, together with its contents. The front part was used as a foundry, and the other as a machine shop. It contained considerable machinery, and in the foundry department there were two furnaces. There were also a lot of patterns stored in the machinery department, all of which were destroyed. The building had only been erected about six months ago. The loss could not be fairly estimated owing to the fact that no estimate could be made as the actual loss of machinery. The figures were variously put, however, at from $3,000 to $5,000 exclusive of the building, which was of comparatively little value.

The loss is partially covered by insurance in the Allemania of this city. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have been from the furnace.

THE SHRIEVALTY.

Balloting for a Candidate.

The Republican Convention Yesterday in Library Hall—An All Night Session—Tenacious Adherence of Delegates—Each Candidate Holds His Own—No Nomination Made—Gen. Blakely Named as a Compromise—Adjournment at a Quarter Past Three This Morning.

The Republican County Convention No. 1, for the nomination of a Sheriff, which adjourned on the fifteenth inst. for one week, met in Library Hall yesterday morning. The Convention was to have been opened promptly at ten o'clock, but owing to a delay in the arrival of some of the trains, and the consequent lateness of some of the delegates, the house was not called to order until 11:15 o'clock.

THE DELAY.

During the delay the time was occupied by those who had arrived in discussing the situation. Around the main entrance to the Hall a large crowded was gathered, anxious to get a glimpse of the proceedings within. A strong force of police had been detailed to preserve order and keep matters straight, and notwithstanding the anxiety manifested, quiet ruled without any necessary interference upon the part of the authorities. In the Hall the parquette had been reserved for delegates, and no one was allowed to pass through the entrance until the proper time and not even then until their names had been called and a seat assigned them.

THE HOUSE CALLED TO ORDER.

At fifteen minutes past eleven o'clock Mr. William Blakely, President of the Convention, called the house to order. The first thing that was done was to call the names of the candidates who were to take seats in the front part of the hall, which had been provided for them. The names of the delegates were called over one by one, which elicited a "here" from those in attendance. The president ordered them to come forward and take seats, but before they were allowed to take their places their credentials and tickets were subjected to a careful examination. Chairman Blakely took it upon himself to step down in front of the parquette and perform this part of the programme personally so that no one should be admitted only those having the proper papers. About fifteen minutes was occupied in getting the delegates seated, and during the calling of the names, one or two failing to respond, the chair was asked to allow a substitute to be admitted, but the request was not granted. The delegates from the country districts were especially careful to call on Chairman Blakely and exhibit their credentials, after which they passed to their proper places. After the roll had been called and the delegates had taken their seats in the Convention, a dozen spectators were not left outside, which showed that the tickets of admission had been distributed very sparingly.

Before proceeding to work the Chairman said a few persons were yet in the parquette circle. If they were delegates and their names had not been called Mr. Blakely asked them to signify it, otherwise Lieut. Hager was asked to clear the seats—as by agreement of the candidates no one was to occupy seats either in the parquette or parquette circle except the delegates themselves.

THE OPENING ADDRESS.

The Chairman began to address the Convention in a few well chosen remarks, in which he said fair play had been asked for and as far as he was concerned nothing should be done but what was right and proper. Reference was made to the Convention a week ago and the speaker asked that the delegates enter upon their work with coolness as well as discretion. He also appealed to the members of the Convention to maintain a spirit of friendship toward each other. He held that much depended upon the action of the delegates, because "as goes Allegheny county this fall so goes the western portion of the State." He thought that a good State ticket was in the field and it would be successful.

At the conclusion of the speech an effort was made to have the action of the Committee on Contested Seats reconsidered. A number of points of order were made. Mr. Littell arose and asked that the question be reconsidered as a compromise measure. After a little further discussion Mr. Littell arose a second time and pressed his request, as he argued that there were delegates present who had no right to vote. He said if there was not a kindly spirit manifested it would end in unpleasantness at the election. Alderman Shaffer moved that the Convention proceed to ballot. A little confusion followed, in which a number urged that the question of contested seats be settled.

The previous question was called, and notwithstanding an effort was made to press the former measure, the Chair decided to put the question, and the vote was taken. The yeas and nays were called, but an attempt was made to decide the question by allowing the delegates to rise and be counted. It being impossible to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion, the chairman ordered the roll to be called and the vote recorded. The vote stood 153 in favor of the motion, and 64 against it.

The Chair decided the question in favor of the affirmative.

A HITCH.

During the calling of the roll a dispute arose as to who should act as a substitute for Mr. A. G. Shea, of Verona borough, Captain Haymaker claiming to have received the authority to act in his stead, and Mr. Rowand claiming the same privilege. The papers of the two men were examined, and Mr. Haymaker was allowed to record his vote, as he had a certificate from Mr. Shea, properly witnessed, stating that he had been delegated to fill his seat. The chairman explained how each man had been provided with tickets, by saying that one of the candidates had called at his office last night and asked for a ticket and had been provided with a duplicate, which he supposed had found its way to the second candidate for the position.

A COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

On motion of Mr. Littell a committee was appointed to decide the question as to who should be considered the delegate from Verona borough, and settle the dispute which took place during the vote.

The Chair appointed Mr. H. H. McCormick, Capt. Cook and Lieut. Wilson as said committee, and they retired to consider the question. On their return they reported in favor of Captain Haymaker, and he was allowed to keep his seat.

THE FIRST BALLOT.

The Convention now proceeded to ballot for Sheriff. Before the calling of the roll it was suggested that each delegate be required to rise when his name was called and stand until recognized by the Chair, when his vote was to be taken and recorded. This seemed to meet the approval of the house and it was so ordered. The Secretary proceeded to call the roll and the yeas and nays were recorded. The vote resulted as follows:

Deihl	67	Fife	77
Lindsay	70	Cluley	10

THE SECOND BALLOT.

A motion was made that a second ballot be taken, but the Chair said that would be done without any action of the house, as each ballot would be proceeded with until a nomination was made. The Secretary began calling the roll by commencing with the townships.

A PROTRACTED DISCUSSION

took place when the question was asked when such a custom was adopted, to which one of the Secretaries replied: "When the city of Pittsburgh was founded." Considerable cross-firing took place for a time. Mr. Littell rose and said this plan had been agreed upon "this week some time."

The Chairman was unable to arrive at a decision satisfactory to the Convention, and a vote was ordered to learn the pleasure of the house.

The motion was put and was carried, a large majority voting in favor of beginning at the foot of the roll and the ballot proceeded. During the call of the roll objection was made to the vote of B. Wather, who claimed to represent Dixon Bigley, the regularly elected delegate from that ward Pittsburgh. The decision of this question was deferred until the calling of the roll was concluded when the gentleman was allowed to retain his seat as he had been properly delegated. The result of the second ballot was as follows:

Deihl	65	Lindsay	72
Fife	77	Cluley	9

THIRD BALLOT.

The Convention proceeded to the third ballot by beginning with the First ward of Pittsburgh. A number of delegates retired after recording their votes, for the purpose of satisfying the inner man. The ballot resulted as follows:

Deihl	69	Fife	78
Lindsay	71	Cluley	3

A motion was made that the names of the two candidates having the lowest number of votes be dropped.

This was vigorously opposed on the ground that it did not give a fair show to the candidates in the field. It was held that if such a measure was adopted the final decision of the Convention would be an unsatisfactory one.

The motion was finally tabled, and was ordered, with the following result:

Deihl	66	Lindsay	74
Fife	76	Cluley	7

There being no choice the Convention proceeded to the FIFTH BALLOT.

At this point the Convention was evidently settling down to business, and with the exception of a disposition on the part of the delegates to assemble in small groups to discuss the situation, the vote proceeded uninterrupted.

Not more than half the delegates were in their seats during this ballot, as the balance had stepped just outside, where they were engaged in conversation. Notwithstanding the fact that there seemed to be an anxiety manifested to reach a conclusion, but little changing of votes took place—each man holding his own remarkably well. It was thought this ballot would develop something new, but the tally showed but little variation.

The following was the result of the vote:

Deihl	66	Lindsay	68
Fife	76	Cluley	9

At this point another attempt was made to effect an adjournment for half an hour, but without success and the

was proceeded with, which showed the following result:

Deihl	67	Lindsay	71
Fife	76	Cluley	6

SEVENTH BALLOT.

The seventh ballot resulted as follows:

Deihl	63	Lindsay	73
Fife	72	Cluley	8

At the close of this ballot, the Secretaries having run out of tally sheets, a recess of ten minutes was taken.

After the intermission the Convention reassembled, and an attempt was again made to drop the candidate having the lowest number of votes from the list.

This provoked an animated discussion which brought Robert Elliott to his feet, who said he had been sent as a delegate to the Convention with certain instructions, and he intended to vote for his man no matter whether the house by its vote struck his name from the list or not.

Mr. James Hunter asked for fair play and demanded that no gag law be resorted to. He said these were men who had their first, second and third choice, and he thought the balloting should proceed on the names as it had done before.

The sense of the Convention being that no name be dropped, the was taken. During its progress there was a noticeable carelessness upon the part of the delegates in answering to their names when called, which the Chair thought inexcusable, and it decided not to receive any votes from delegates outside of the parquette or the front row of seats in the parquette circle.

To this order objections were raised and more than a score of "noes" went up from different parts of the hall.

To decide the question satisfactorily a vote was taken upon it, which resulted in the ratification of the ruling of the Chair.

ANOTHER LITTLE TILT.

Mr. Gillespie, from the first precinct of Ross township, failed to answer to the call of his name, and it was passed. After this had been done he claimed a right to have his ballot recorded, notwithstanding a decision in the earlier part to the effect that the roll would not be called a second time to accommodate absentees, or persons who did not give proper attention.

Here another tilt took place, in which a dozen persons attempted to get the floor at the same time.

Mr. C. L. Magee protested against such ruling, and thought a man had a right to vote no matter at what time he came in while the roll was being called.

The chair did not feel like indulging those who did not attend to their business, and thought it unjust to ask those who remained at their posts all the time to be required to endure a protracted session of the Convention on account of the negligence of others.

The vote of Mr. Gillespie was received, but President Blakely assured the delegates that he would enforce his decision strictly, which had been endorsed by the Convention in the future.

A FIFE DELEGATE.

The name of one of the country delegates was called and he responded from his station near the door.

The attention of the chairman was called to the fact, and he asked the delegate to rise and announce his vote.

To this there was objection, and another little squabble ensued.

The Chair said if the name of the delegate could be given he would rule out the vote, but no one being able to call the name, the ballot as recorded was allowed to stand.

Mr. Magee rose and said "that is unfair; however, he is a Fife man and that is the reason."

The result of the ballot was as follows:

Lindsay	75	Deihl	65
Fife	75	Cluley	6

On motion the Convention agreed to go into the

NINTH BALLOT,

which resulted as follows:

Lindsay	70	Deihl	64
Fife	75	Cluley	5

After the vote had been announced Mr. H. H. McCormick took the floor and said he was convinced that no decision would be arrived at during the day. Without any prejudice against any of the candidates he moved that the Convention adjourn until September 10th at ten o'clock.

Scores of "noes" went up from all parts of the house, and on motion of Mr. Fairman, of Allegheny, the motion was tabled.

A motion to drop the name of the candidate having the lowest number of votes was renewed, which roused the ire of the house, and again about a dozen men had the floor, and all were speaking at once. After some time order was restored and Mr. E. D. Wilt, of the Fourteenth ward, Pittsburgh, obtained the floor, and said it was both mean and contemptible for an effort to be made to overthrow the rights of the delegates. He said he had his choice and no doubt others had theirs, and they would stand by their man to the end, if it was for a whole week.

TENTH BALLOT.

The Convention called for another ballot, and amid some confusion it was so ordered by the chair.

Before the roll was called 'Squire Shaffer of the South Side, said: "Mr. Chairman, I move at the conclusion of this ballot, if there is no choice, that the one having the highest number of votes be dropped from the list."

This caused an uproar of laughter, and the motion was neither seconded or entertained.

The following was the result of the vote:

Deihl	61	Lindsay	72
Fife	73	Cluley	5

No choice having been made a resolution was offered and adopted that the

ELEVENTH BALLOT BE TAKEN,

with the following result:

Deihl	65	Lindsay	73
Fife	74	Cluley	7

The announcement of the vote was greeted with loud cheers, and the Convention seemed determined to go forward and complete the work before them.

TWELFTH BALLOT.

While the votes were being taken quite a good deal of confusion ensued. The following was result:

Deihl	65	Lindsay	73
Fife	75	Cluley	5

As soon as the result was announced an adjournment was called for, which brought forth a host "No's" from a large number of delegates. Some of the delegates insisted on the putting of the motion to adjourn, but the Convention would not hear the request.

The ballot having been previously ordered the Chair decided the motion to adjourn out of order.

Mr. Hunter, of Allegheny, said a motion to adjourn was in order at any time, and insisted on a vote being taken.

The Chair decided that the ballot had been determined upon, and no motion of any kind would be entertained.

THIRTEENTH BALLOT.

The calling of the roll was begun and had only proceeded a few moments until the Convention was all in confusion, which lasted for five minutes.

Order having been restored, the calling of the roll was continued, during which everything remained very quiet.

The following was the result of the ballot:

Diehl	61	Lindsay	73
Fife	74	Cluley	7

A motion was made to adjourn, to meet at the call of the Chairman.

The yeas and nays were called, which resulted in 67 for the motion and 124 against it.

Just before the vote was taken one of the country delegates rose and said: "Mr. Chairman, I think it injustice to us to adjourn now. We have come here to place a candidate in the field and let us settle the question if it takes all week to do it."

This was loudly cheered by those who favored another ballot. When Sheriff Hare's name was called he asked the privilege of making a few remarks. He said that owing to the improbability of making a nomination and for the good of the Republican party he would vote aye.

THE FOURTEENTH BALLOT.

On motion, the Convention decided to proceed with the fourteenth ballot, and the calling of the roll was commenced.

The tally sheet showed the following result:

Diehl	63	Lindsay	72
Fife	72	Cluley	8

The following resolution was passed to the chair by H. H. McCormick, Esq., which was read by one of the Secretaries:

WHEREAS, The Democratic Convention has this day nominated a candidate for County Treasurer; therefore,

Resolved, That this Convention adjourn and the nomination of Sheriff and County Treasurer be referred to a future convention to be called hereafter by the proper County Committee.

No vote was taken upon the paper, as the number of noes which came from the house was sufficient to show that such an act was unnecessary.

FIFTEENTH BALLOT.

This ballot was conducted without any special demonstration on the part of any one, and resulted as follows:

Diehl	62	Fife	73
Lindsay	68	Cluley	6

There being no choice the Convention proceeded.

SIXTEENTH BALLOT.

The following was the vote cast:

Diehl	58	Fife	72
Lindsay	68	Cluley	5

When the vote was announced the motion to drop the candidate having the lowest number of votes was renewed.

Mr. Magee opposed the motion, and another promiscuous discussion took place.

The previous question being called a vote was taken, and the Chair being unable to arrive at a decision, the yeas and nays were called, and Sheriff Hare proceeded to call the roll.

Before it was concluded the Chair announced that the motion was hopelessly lost, and the

SEVENTEENTH BALLOT

was ordered.

The following was the vote:

Diehl	64	Fife	71
Lindsay	67	Cluley	8

MIDNIGHT.

When the above vote was announced the midnight hour had arrived, and there appearing to be no prospect of nominating a candidate, Sheriff Hare offered the following:

WHEREAS, There has been seventeen ballots with no result, and in order that all the delegates be permitted to return to their homes,

Resolved, That each candidate before this Convention be permitted to select three persons, and after consultation, report to this Convention an adjournment to some day to be agreed upon.

The motion was tabled by a large majority, when Mr. H. H. McCormick came to the front and offered the following:

WHEREAS, This Convention has failed after a long series of ballots and as there is no prospect of a choice of candidate for Sheriff, therefore,

Resolved, That the Convention adjourn, and that the chairman be instructed to report the result to the County Executive Committee for such action as that body may deem proper and necessary.

This paper met with a similar fate to that of Sheriff Hare's, and although the vote to table it was largely in favor of making such a disposition of it, the yeas and nays were called, when a demand was made for another ballot.

THE APPEARANCE OF THE DELEGATES.

The determination manifested to fight the thing to a successful issue became more and more apparent than ever, and the delegates—a large number of them—having laid their coats to one side, stationed themselves within the line of demarcation drawn during the day, many of them with their feet propped up on the backs of the chairs, while others adopted a reclining posture. The contest again grew rather warm, and the advocates of each candidate signified their intention to continue in session all night, unless a man was nominated before morning.

THE EIGHTEENTH BALLOT.

The result of the vote taken was as follows:

Diehl	65	Fife	73
Lindsay	67	Cluley	7

The vote being made known to the Convention, through the Chairman, it was received with the usual shout, and was called for. The delegates were evidently becoming very weary, a reaction having followed the excitement which took place only a short time before. They began to move about the hall, but always managed to be within the prescribed limits when it came their turn to vote. Things now had reached an unusually quiet state, and as the vote proceeded a low murmur could be heard coming from the body of the Convention. This, however, did not continue but a few minutes until objection was raised to the recording of a vote. The objection was withdrawn and the work went forward.

THE NINETEENTH BALLOT

ONE O'CLOCK.

At the arrival of this hour the vote on the nineteenth ballot was being taken, the caller having reached the middle of the list.

From this time to the choice of the ballot the convention was more orderly than it had been during its session.

The following was the result as announced:

Diehl	63	Lindsay	64
Fife	73	Cluley	7

Before announcing the vote the Chairman said it was now after one o'clock and he could see no use in remaining in session all night, as the vote stood almost the same as it did at the opening of the Convention. He stated that while he was willing to remain as long as any one if there was any prospect of arriving at a conclusion, he objected to acting as chairman of the meeting when the delegates were simply repeating their votes at each call. He said he had endeavored to act fair in all his rulings, and asked the house to reflect for a moment before taking further action.

A recess of ten minutes was taken for the purpose of allowing sufficient time to talk over matters.

On being called to order a motion prevailed to the effect that the

be proceeded with.

Another season of quiet followed, as the roll was called. Some of the delegates began to gather in small groups, but there was no change in the vote. A spirit of determination seemed to possess the entire body, and each ballot was only another heat in the race course. It appeared that the idea was entertained that some of the the country delegates would give in as the morning advanced, but this conjecture proved to be without foundation, as the hard-handed sons of toil exhibited a degree of interest in the result which was not excelled by any of the city delegates. At half past one the calling of the roll was in progress, and the ballot resulted as follows:

Diehl	64	Lindsay	71
Fife	71	Cluley	7

After the announcement of the vote the Convention decided to go into the twenty-first ballot.

TWO O'CLOCK.

At this time the Convention, although another ballot had been ordered, came to a dead lock. A recess of half an hour was taken, neither side seeming anxious to advance further. A number of the delegates seemed tired out, and during the interim they embraced the opportunity of taking a rest, and soon they were in the silent embrace of Morpheus. There was some difficulty in getting any one to call the roll again, and things assumed rather a dubious aspect for anything further to be accomplished.

NEW CANDIDATE SUGGESTED.

At a quarter past two o'clock this morning Mr. Robert Elliott submitted a proposition to the Convention that, inasmuch as it had been unable to agree upon a candidate that General Wm. Blakely, (the Chairman of the Convention) be nominated by acclamation as the Republican candidate for Sheriff. The suggestion was received with manifestations of approval by a few and of displeasure by many. It is proper to state here that Mr. Blakely would not consent to be named as a candidate unless it was perfectly acceptable to all the other candidates. No action was taken on the proposition of Mr. Elliott, and Mr. Barker, of Allegheny, suggested that the Convention proceed to another ballot and that the delegates vote for whom they please, irrespective of the candidates regularly nominated. This was by universal consent considered out of order.

TWENTY-FIRST BALLOT.

The twenty-first ballot was then taken as follows:

Diehl	63	Fife	70
Lindsay	70	Cluley	6

TWENTY-SECOND BALLOT.

Diehl	63	Fife	72
Lindsay	66	Cluley	8

After the announcement of the vote the Chairman spoke as follows:

Gentlemen of the Convention! I am much obliged to you for the kindness and courtesy manifested towards me as President of this Convention.

It is now fifteen minutes past three o'clock, and I declare the Convention adjourned to meet at the call of the President. The Convention then adjourned with three rousing cheers for General Blakely.

The Efforts at Compromise.

After the Convention was over the writer had an interview with Mr. Diehl, who said he was ready to offer any fair compromise. Said the gentleman, "Why, sir, we offered them everything. We agreed to unite on Gen. Blakely, or Springer Harbaugh, or J. J. Gillespie, Miles Humphries, Henry M. Long, in fact, any of the compromise candidates who had been talked of, but they were stubborn."

"And so you couldn't effect a compromise."

"No. Not a bit of it. I never saw anything like it. They would'nt agree to anything."

"Well, do you think there is any prospect of a compromise now?"

"Oh! I don't know about that. I only know they wouldn't compromise to-night."

"Well, what is the next move?"

"As to that I can't say. You know as much about it as I do. It'll be a healthy job to get the delegates together again."

THE DEMOCRACY.

Their Convention Yesterday and the Men They Nominated—Patterson for Sheriff, O'Neill for Clerk of Courts, &c.

The Democratic Convention convened at half past ten o'clock yesterday morning, in Lafayette Hall, at the corner of Wood street and Fourth avenue, and was called to order by John H. Bailey, who acted as temporary chairman by virtue of his position as Chairman of the County Committee. Messrs. Frank M. Teuful, E. J. Roberts, W. Farley, J. R. Hunter, D. H. Jones and D. C. Bowers were chosen temporary secretaries. Tim O'Leary was also named as one of the scribes, but he was thrown out by the Convention. F. M. Hutchinson, James Semple and Augustus Pauline were appointed tellers. On motion a committee consisting of R. W. Guthrie S. R. Fife, Wm. McCarthy, V. E. Pauline and W. J. Means was appointed on contested seats, and it turned out that they had plenty to do, as the contests were numerous, bogus certificates being almost as many as smooth bore tickets on election day. The committee retired for the purpose of commencing its work and after it had been absent an hour or more the Chairman announced that it could not get through inside of several hours and that he would appoint another Committee on Contested Seats. He selected as the committee Joseph A. O'Neill, John Grant, J. G. Rolshouse, E. Porter and W. T. Taylor. The two committees then formed a junction and it being after the dinner hour the Convention adjourned to meet again at two o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The Convention was called to order at the usual hour and Chairman Bailey, who made an excellent presiding officer, insisted that delegates should take their seats on the floor and visitors in the gallery. This rule he enforced during the whole meeting. The reports of the Committees on Contested Seats were submitted and approved after which the temporary officers were made permanent. The Convention then went into nominations for Sheriff, and Robert Patterson, Henry B. Long, Peter Fairley, Henry Large and Wm. McCormick were nominated. The first ballot resulted as follows:

Fairley	42	Patterson	124
Long	78	Large	18
McCormick	3

There being no choice on first ballot a second was ordered, the name of Wm. McCormick having been withdrawn, and but few votes had been taken when Mr. Fairley withdrew his name and moved that Mr. Patterson be nominated by acclamation. His action was received with prolonged cheers, but the chairman while accepting the resignation refused to put the "acclamation" motion on the ground that Mr. Fairley was not a member of the Convention. The taking of the ballot was then proceeded with, and when finished was found to be as follows, one hundred and thirty-three votes being required to nominate:

Patterson	156	Large	4
Long	98

The announcement of the nomination of Mr. Patterson was received with applause.

CLERK OF COURTS.

For this position James P. O'Neill, Frank Lee and J. M. Carson were nominated. The first ballot was as follows:

O'Neill	94	Lee	85
Carson	45

On the first ballot there was no choice, but on the second ballot O'Neill was nominated, the vote being as follows:

O'Neill	124	Lee	96
Carson	8

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

Before proceeding to ballot for County Commissioner the Convention decided that the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes should be declared the nominees. This was for the purpose of preventing second ballots, and the rule was also adopted in making nominations for all the offices named below. The ballot for County Commissioners was as follows:

Wm. Magee	43	Isaac Bausman	40
J. A. Lashell	108	Jno. O'Reilly	111
C. W. Bryson	4	H. S. Ackley	16
Henry Garber	4	James Irwin	155

Each delegate voted for two candidates. The name of John M. Johnston, who was named with the others, was withdrawn before the voting had ended. Irwin and O'Reilly having received the most votes were declared the nominees.

REGISTER.

For Register Alex. McFarland was nominated, the voting being thusly:

Alex. McFarland	85	Samuel Neely	12
R. Mitchell	48

RECORDER.

W. E. Giles proved the successful applicant for this position, the candidates being balloted for as follows:

Wm. E. Giles	106	Jerome Bonnett	24
W. H. Stoughton	14

CONTROLLER.

For Controller W. H. Mechling was nominated by acclamation, there being no opposition to him.

DIRECTOR OF POOR.

By the time the Convention reached this office, and indeed considerably before it, the hour had grown somewhat late and many of the country delegates having got tired and weary left. This is proved by the votes for Register, Recorder and Director of the Poor. For the latter position J. R. Hunter was nominated on the following ballot:

Wm. Franey	6	Charles Bryson	11
H. S. Ackley	8	John Powers	2
J. R. Hunter	14

The work of the Convention being over and the daylight growing dim, after seven o'clock in the evening, it adjourned sine die.

THE HIGH SCHOOL.

Class Day Exercises—An Interesting Programme.

Last evening the hall of the High School building was filled with an audience, gathered by invitation to witness the "Class Day Exercises." The programme was altogether in the hands of the graduating class, and proved very enjoyable. Mr. Harvey S. Patterson, a member of the class, was the master of ceremonies, and under his supervision, "all went merry as a marriage bell." The exercises opened about eight o'clock, with a well written historical sketch, by Miss Jennie F. Bamford, under the title of "Class Annals." She gave a history of the graduating class, individually and collectively, from its commencement—a record that was spiced with many interesting bits of history. Mr. George M. Sleeth followed with a parody on the "Death of Demeritis," in which he humorously set forth the deliverance of the class from the sorrow of any more demerit marks. "Class Automatons," conducted by Mr. Marvin F. Scaife as showman, was very funny. The members of the class were all arranged on the platform, and the showman, after telling of the characteristics of each, turned an imaginary crank, and the automaton responded in suitable pantomimic style, amid great laughter. Then Mr. B. Howard Lutton very affectionately presented from the outgoing class of '75 to the incoming class of '76 the lamp of knowledge—a penny dip and a huge candlestick. The exquisite gift was appropriately received in behalf of the class of '76 by Mr. A. B. Martin, and was tenderly borne away as a precious relic. Then came a tableau "Elaine," from Tennyson's poem. The figures were life-like, and the tableau was rendered brilliant with red fire illuminations. Miss Sadie J. Patterson, with the class ranged in front of her, pronounced "The Sybil's Prophecy" concerning the future of each—a performance that, underneath all its quiet humor, seemed, from the way it was received by her schoolmates, to have a large amount of sober fact in it. Mr. Lawrence D. Strouss next appeared and in behalf of the class as their "Last will and Testament" bequeathed the High School Buildings, Professors, apparatus, and all, to the Trustees, for the benefit of the rising generation of Pittsburgh. Then came "Farewell Address" by Mr. J. Thomas Myler, in which, for himself and companions, he bid adieu to their beloved alma mater, and the programme was wound up by a typical tableau representing the "Triumph of Ceres."

The programme was agreeably diversified by music from an excellent string band, and the entertainment throughout was alike enjoyable to the pupils and the friends assembled. The occasion takes rank among the most successful "Class Day" performances known in the annals of the school. It was one that will be remembered by the young participants long after they have passed beyond hail of youth's verdurous shore.

The Commencement exercises will be held to-morrow evening in the Opera House. The class is composed of the following pupils: Laura G. Allen, Jennie F. Bamford, James M. Bennett, Chas. H. Carlisle, George Hosack, B. Howard Lutton, Katie M. Macrum, Robert Mazet, Ida V. Miller, J. Thomas Myler, Chas. P. Orr, Sadie J. Patterson, Harvey S. Patterson, Marvin F. Scaife, Mary E. Scovel, Samuel F. Shannon, James H. Simpson, George M. Sleeth, William L. Stone, Lawrence D. Strouss, Robt. McB. Vincent, Daniel Wenke, Jr.

PITTSBURGH FEMALE COLLEGE.

The Commencement Exercises Last Night—Essays, Addresses, Music and Flowers in Abundance.

Last evening witnessed the close of the school year at the Pittsburgh Female College, and the occasion was devoted principally to the graduating class. The class this year, owing to sickness and other causes, which depleted the original numbers, was reduced to two members,—but though the quantity was somewhat less than usual, the quality was not in the least deteriorated, so far as it went the class was equal to the very best of its predecessors.

Though the evening was excessively warm, a large audience gathered in the chapel and endured apparently with pleasure the par-boiling, until ten o'clock the programme opened with music, "Fatasia La Tigia del Reggimento," on the organ by Prof. Nicholls. Rev. B. F. Brooke led in prayer, after which there was more music—a trio, "La Cavita," by the Misses Effie Voigt, Nora Lorentz, and Sadie Meminger. Rev. Alexander Clark, editor of the Methodist Recorder, then delivered the annual address. His theme was "Nature as a Teacher," and it was developed with that felicitous grace of diction and beauty of imagery for which the speaker is famed. He talked for about three-quarters of an hour. Then came a song "When the tides come in" by Miss Olive Bitts, followed by an essay on "Breakers Ahead" by Miss McMilian. The essay was full of good practical common sense, and was highly creditable in every way. Prof. Blessner next favored the audience with a piece of instrumental music, and Miss Sallie Collier followed with the Valedictory addresses. The "addresses" were pertinent, finely worded, and brief,—making the performance as interesting to outsiders as to those connected with the college. Miss Atkinson gave an instrumental selection on the piano, and Rev. J. J. Murray very happily talked to the graduates for about ten minutes, of the influence which could be exerted by a true woman in the world. Following came music—"Tampa"—by the Misses Ella Myers, Aggie Weir, Effie Voigt, Lillie Fhey, Laura Augustine and Mr. C. C. Mellor, under the direction of Prof. De Ham—a performance that elicited the most rapturous applause.

Rev. Dr. Pershing then conferred the diplomas upon the graduates, and announced that Miss Collier had taken the Lattin prize and Miss McMillian the Butler prize, while the Mathematical prize had been divided among five of the pupils. The exercises closed with the "Hallelujah Chorus" on the organ by Prof. Nicholls, and Benediction.

SLAVE MARRIAGES.

Are They Legal—An Interesting Question.

An important case was argued in the Court of Common Pleas yesterday. The point at issue is whether a marriage between slaves is legal. In 1832 Levi Smith, a slave in Calumet county, Virginia, loved and won a slave on an adjoining plantation. Both were favorites with their masters, and hence the wedding was permitted, and was celebrated with great pomp—the bride's mistress arranging the details and giving her slave a good "send off." The couple lived happily together for five years and had several children. The man eventually was made free, but the woman was not. He came to Pittsburgh to work, to secure money to purchase his wife's freedom. After five years' toil he had saved enough to carry out his purpose. In 1842 he left for his home, but when he arrived in Virginia he found that the question of abolition had so aroused the southern people that free negroes there were in danger of their lives. He was secreted for the night, and in the morning had to depart without seeing either wife or children. They were shortly afterward sold to another master further South. He never saw his wife again. He settled in Lawrenceville, accumulated some property, cohabited with a colored woman there, and finally both were carried off with the cholera, leaving no issue.

Now a couple of sons of the marriage in Virginia turn up and claim the property in Lawrenceville. The fact of the marriage was proven.

The defense claim that a marriage between the parties when in bondage is invalid, and that the children have no claim to the property, being illegitimate. The plaintiff's counsel holds that it was a marriage sanctioned by the owners of the parties, as was evidenced by the pomp with which it was celebrated, and that it did not interfere with the rights of either master, hence that it was legal. The Court reserved its decision.

It is an interesting question inasmuch, as it will be a decision upon the part as to the legality of the marriage.

SMART BOY.

How he Secured a Soft Seat and Stole a Ride.

Yesterday afternoon, as the hands at the Allegheny station, Fort Wayne railroad, were unloading a car of wool, they came across a part of the freight that was not down on the bills. It was a small portion, but was exceedingly lively—consisting of a youth of about fifteen summers, who was snugly ensconced and apparently taking it easy. The youth, it seems, desired to come to Pittsburgh and had not the funds to secure a ticket. He therefore made a place in the wool car and rode on a soft seat all the way, softer than that in a Pullman palace car. He refused to tell where he got in but it is thought he came from an Ohio town. He was allowed to depart unmolested.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK.

Convention for the Presbytery of Pittsburgh—The General Features of the Work Discussed.

Yesterday morning a Convention of Sabbath school workers for the Presbytery of Pittsburgh commenced in the Lecture room of the First Presbyterian church, Wood street.

The meeting was called to order at ten o'clock, with Rev. S. M. Henderson in the chair. Rev. P. S. Jennings was appointed Secretary. Devotional exercises were held for half an hour, when Rev. J. J. Beacom was introduced and addressed the audience on the subject of "Missionary Aspects of the Sabbath School Work at Home."

Rev. Holland discussed the great advantage of securing the attendance of the adults at the school.

The propriety of establishing Union schools was also debated—some favoring the plan and others opposing.

The evening session was mainly occupied with addresses by Rev. J. Bennett Tyler on "The Teacher's Office," and by Rev. S. J. Fisher on the lessons and experiences of the past six months. There was a fair attendance throughout of prominent Sunday School workers.

The Normal Class.

The sixth session of the Sunday School Teacher's Normal Class was held in the Smithfield street M. E. church last evening. The topic of discussion was "The Countries and Nations mentioned in the Bible," and the Conductor was Mr. Samuel W. Hay. The discussion of the topic was rendered the more interesting by maps—one of which was a fine outline map, drawn by the Conductor as he proceeded with an elucidation of the topic. The time was limited, and the field extensive, yet Mr. Hay succeeded in developing the topic in an interesting and very instructive way. As the different nations and countries were brought up, remarks were made upon them by the Conductor and facts in relation to them brought out by questioning the class—so that the session was one of profit to all in attendance.

WESTERN UNIVERSITY.

The Baccalaureate Address—Class Day Exercises.

Yesterday morning the patrons, pupils and friends of the Western University assembled at the Hall to hear the Baccalaureate address by Chancellor Woods.

The address was an appeal to the graduating class to unite with the educational training they had received, the principles of virtue—without which they could not achieve the highest success. The key note of the address was contained in the following paragraph:

"Education is the light of the world. Several hundreds of years ago the Christians only enjoyed the privileges of education, but to-day it reaches all over the world, being neither restricted to one class nor another, and it is a false notion entertained by some that education immediately produces virtue. Said Sir Humphrey Davy, the great scientist, "I enjoy no man's genius, power or wit; if I could choose anything for myself it would be the true rest and peacefulness of a Christian." Scoffers and infidels may make light of religion, whilst recognizing the great worth of education; but all our education and learning we owe to the influence of the Christian religion." The Doctor spoke earnestly and with a force that impressed the thought upon the minds of all who heard. It was beautiful in thought and diction, and contained practical suggestions for the graduates which all would do well to heed.

"The "Class Day" exercises will be held this afternoon at University Hall, and the regular commencement exercises to-morrow evening in the Third Presbyterian church. The graduating class is composed of the following named gentlemen: C. W. Collier, M. B. Strasser, C. W. Neeb, S. J. Glass, R. D. Thompson, J. N. Smith, A. D. Neeld, J. H. Young and T. H. Nevin.

AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

Bryant's Minstrels are nightly greeted at the Opera House with large audiences, and the frequent applause furnishes the best evidence of how pleased they are with the superior entertainments furnished by this favorite troupe. Raymond, Moran, Templeton and Barry seem to have established themselves as prime favorites and receive double and triple encores. The entire programme, from the overture to the end, is first-class, and the performance is pronounced by judges to be the best witnessed for a long time. They appear again to-night and Friday and Saturday evenings and also Saturday afternoon. Thursday evening the Opera House will be occupied by the High School Commencement exercises.

An Evening's Enjoyment.

This evening a strawberry and ice cream festival will be held in the Central Reformed Presbyterian Church, Sandusky street Allegheny. The ladies have made every arrangement for the pleasure of all who attend, and those who wish to enjoy an evening of rare pleasure should be in attendance. Pleasant company, fraternal feeling, and plenty of refreshments are the attractions.

Festival.

Last evening the floral, ice cream and strawberry festival at the South Common M. E. Church Allegheny, opened, and was well attended. It will be continued to-night, and to-morrow evening.

Repairing and Remodeling.

Parties can do no better than secure the service of Samuel Wood, Jr., corner Penn and Ninth streets, for all kinds of carpenter work. Reliable, reasonable in charge and competent, satisfaction is assured.

The Commissariat of the Body.

The stomach is the commissariat of the physical system. It furnishes the natural sustenance of every organ. If disordered, the whole body languishes; but, however affected, its tone and vigor may always be restored by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The regularity in its operations which this grand tonic alterative establishes is the most direct means of obviating physical debility, impurities of the blood and affections of the discharging organs. We know that if digestion or the habit of the body is obstructed, the entire physique is weakened in consequence of insufficient conversion of the food into blood; and it is equally certain that the refuse of the system not wholly thrown off is sure to contaminate the vital fluid and surcharge the bowels and kidneys with vitiated matter which weakens and inflames them. The Bitters, by strengthening the organs of discharge, enables them to act vigorously, thus liberates the pent up waste which would otherwise work incalculable injury.

WHAT IS VEGETINE?

It is a compound extracted from barks, roots and herbs. It is Nature's Remedy. It is perfectly harmless from any bad effect upon the system. It is nourishing and strengthening. It acts directly upon the blood. It quiets the nervous system. It gives you good, sweet sleep at night. It is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers; for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep—as has been proved by many an aged person. It is the great Blood Purifier. It is a soothing remedy for our children. It has relieved and cured thousands. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it. It relieves and cures all diseases originating from impure blood. Try the VEGETINE. Give it a fair trial for your complaints; then you will say to your friend, neighbor and acquaintance, "Try it; it has cured me."

RELIABLE EVIDENCE.

The following unsolicited testimonial from Rev. O. T. Walker, D. D., formerly pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston, and at present settled in Providence, R. I., must be deemed as reliable evidence. No one should fail to observe that this testimonial is the result of two years' experience with the use of VEGETINE in the Rev. Mr. Walker's family, who now pronounces it invaluable:

PROVIDENCE, R. I., 164 TRANSIT STREET.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

I feel bound to express with my signature the high value I place upon your VEGETINE. My family have used it for the last two years. In nervous debility it is invaluable, and I recommend it to all who may need an invigorating, renovating tonic.

O. T. WALKER,
Formerly Pastor of Bowdoin Square Church, Boston.

The Best Evidence.

The following letter from Rev. E. S. Best, pastor of the M. E. Church, Natick, Mass., will be read with interest by many physicians: also, those suffering from the same disease as afflicted the son of the Rev. E. S. Best. No person can doubt this testimony, as there is no doubt about the curative powers of VEGETINE.

NATICK, MASS., January 1, 1873.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—We have good reason for regarding your VEGETINE a medicine of the greatest value. We feel assured that it has been the means of saving our son's life. He is now seventeen years of age; for the last two years he has suffered from necrosis of his leg, caused by scrofulous affection, and was so far reduced that nearly all who saw him thought his recovery impossible. A council of able physicians could give us but the faintest hope of his ever rallying, two of the number declaring that he was beyond the reach of human remedies, that even amputation could not save him, as he had not vigor enough to endure the operation. Just then we commenced giving him VEGETINE, and from that time to the present he has been continuously improving. He has lately resumed studies, thrown away his crutches and cane, and walks about cheerfully and strong.

Though there is still some discharge from the opening where his limb was lanced, we have the fullest confidence that in a little time he will be perfectly cured.

He has taken about three dozen bottles of VEGETINE, but lately uses but little, as he declares that he is too well to be taking medicine.

Respectfully yours,
E. S. BEST,
MRS. L. C. F. BEST.
